16TH YEAR. NO. 195.

TWO CENTS

In Memory of Queen Victoria

Services Held at St. Stephen's Church Yesterday Afternoon Were Very Impressive.

THE CHURCH WAS PACKED

Hundreds of People Were Unable to Get In the Spacious New Edifice.

THE MUSIC WAS BEAUTIFUL

One of the most impressive and interesting services ever held in the city was that given at St. Stephen's church yesterday afternoon in memory of the late Queen Victoria.

Long before the time for opening the services had arrived the church was packed to the doors and many hundreds of people had to be turned away, as the seating capacity of the handsome new edifice had been entirely taken up.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the Sons and Daughters of St. George, who had met at their hall, formed in solemn procession and to the beautiful strains of the dead march, played by Haines' band, marched to the church. The Stars and Stripes and Union Jack, the flags of the two greatest nations, were carried at the head of the procession draped in mourning. A large number of people watched the procession, which made an impressive sight.

Almost 200 persons were in line, and it did the hearts of the English residents of this city good to witness the sight, while the American residents felt the same way, as all knew that the service was in memory of one that was loved and respected by all.

When the church was reached the procession filed to their seats, while the choir rendered the beautiful selection, "For All the Saints from Their Labors Rest."

The memorial services held were very impressive, while the music rendered by the vested choir is seldom if ever equalled in the city. They sang during the service "On the Resurrection Morn," "There is a Blessed Home," together with a special anthem, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives." The music was indeed a feature of the services.

The memorial address was delivered by Rev. Edwin Weary, and was a splendid effort. His eulogy of the late queen was eloquent.

The many hundreds of people who could not get in the church were sorely disappointed.

The floral offerings were unusually profuse and handsome.

BUSINESS SLOW.

ONLY TWO OFFENDERS FACED MAYOR DAVIDSON.

Both of Them Were Common Drunks And They Got the Usual Fine.

Business in police court was not brisk on Saturday night, and but one solitary unfortunate got so far gone as to fall into the hands of the police.

He was Martin Leech and was arrested by Officers Davidson and Aufderheide on Second street. The fellow was full of booze and was making things lively at the home of Louis Orr on Second street. The people of that neighborhood stood the annoyance as long as they could, but finally decided the proper thing would be to hand him over to the police, which they did.

Mayor Davidson gave him a hearing Sunday morning on a charge of drunk and disorderly, to which he plead guilty, got $6 60, paid it and was released.

Clarence Maylone was drunk yesterday and was placed under arrest by Officer Davidson. He was assessed $6 60 and is in jail waiting for some one to appear with the necessary cash.

AT BUSINESS.

E. W. HILL IS WELL PLEASED WITH WELL AT GRAYSVILLE.

Company Have About 100 Acres Leased And Consider it a Valuable Investment.

E. W. Hill & Co. are much pleased with their last oil well. Mr. Hill has just returned from Graysville, where their well is located, bringing a specimen of the oil with him. The oil is very clear and the test shows it to be nearly 92 per cent pure.

Graysville is situated in the southern part of Monroe county, Ohio, and the field is divided into three parts—Jackson Ridge, Moose Ridge and Graysville, the most southern part. The field is nine and one-half miles long and about one and one-half miles wide. Over 200 wells have been drilled and almost no dry ones.

In one month 42 wells were drilled in the Graysville section and only five of them proved failures.

Mr. Hill's company have about 100 acres and consider it a very valuable investment. The country is very rough, there being scarcely a level acre in the oil belt.

The wells in this field have proven "stayers," some having been producing for eight years. This last one will be good for 30 barrels.

DEBORA TULLIS

WAS GRANTED A DIVORCE FROM JOHN TULLIS.

She Was Also Given the Custody of Their Three Minor Children.

Lisbon, Jan. 28.—(Special)—The January term of common pleas court was formally opened before noon today and a number of entries of minor importance made.

Debora Tullis, of East Liverpool, was in court with a number of witnesses to prosecute her divorce action filed in November against John Tullis. Her divorce was granted and she was given the custody of her three minor children. The couple were married in East Liverpool on August 7, 1884, and Tullis is charged with habitual drunkenness for over three years. The husband is in the work house.

One Marriage License.

Lisbon, Jan. 28.—(Special)—A marriage license has been granted to Byron A. Smith and Miss Annie Fletcher, of Salem.

THE ASSOCIATION WILL PAY A NOTE

Only $1,000 Needed to Put the Hospital Site Free From All Debt.

SEVERAL PLANS SUGGESTED
In Regard to Raising Money But That of Monroe Patterson Is the Best.

HE WILL GIVE $50 PER KILN

The solicitors of the hospital association have been active recently, and are meeting with good success wherever they have worked.

The money for another note is now in the hands of the association and will be paid at once. The amount is not due until March 1, but will be turned over without delay. This note is for $500, and leaves but $1,000 to raise in order to leave the ground free from encumbrance. One hundred dollars of this last $1,000 has already been pledged, and it is not thought any difficulty will be met in raising the amount.

A canvass among the manufacturers has developed the fact that without a single exception they will subscribe to the fund, but would like to have some plan or system on which to base their contributions. This has called forth many suggestions, and by far the best plan in the opinion of the association is that mentioned by Monroe Patterson. He states that he will be willing to subscribe $50 each for the six kilns on his plant, and believes that if the other manufacturers would agree to the proposition it would be a comparatively easy matter to raise all the money needed for the institution.

A prominent resident, and one who can be relied upon to do as he says, is authority for the statement that just as soon as the hospital people show a disposition to begin the erection of the building, rent a room temporarily or in some manner show that they propose to carry the project to a successful termination, he will be one of ten who will subscribe $1,000 each. He hasn't any doubt that the men can be found, and when the time comes the money will be forthcoming.

Important Meeting.

The Street Railway Men's union held an important meeting Saturday evening in Brotherhood hall. A large number of members were present and many new men received the obligation.

WELLSVILLE SUIT.

FRANK GEISSE ASKS THAT A RECEIVER BE APPOINTED

For the Business of the Novelty Machine Works of That Village.

Lisbon, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Frank Geisse and William Wooster, late business partners in Wellsville under the firm name of the Novelty Machine works, are parties to a suit which was filed in court today by Geisse.

The firm, which was organized for the purpose of carrying on the plumbing business, was organized in September, 1899, continuing until November last, when by mutual consent the partnership was dissolved. Geisse now claims that there were numerous accounts due the firm when they quit business, and Wooster has been devoting his time to collecting the same and converting them to his own use. He says that Wooster is insolvent and has refused to account to him for any monies collected. Judge Hole is asked to appoint a receiver.

A bill of exceptions was filed this morning in the case of Charles G. Lacey and Charles E. Burk vs. L. H. Kirkbride, of Salem, appealing the same to circuit court. The case was first appealed here by Kirkbride from Squire Cobourn's court, and when tried judgment was rendered for $245 11 in favor of the plaintiff.

Isaac Cox, of Marshall county, W. Va., has filed an action in partition in court asking that his interests in an 87-acre farm in Elkrum township to set off to him. Cox is an heir of the late Elizabeth Cox and as such claims to be entitled to one-fourteenth interest in the farm and filed his action against the other heirs.

HOSKINS CUT

BUTLER NAILER

Beth Men Are Colored and Were Engaged In Playing Cards In a Shanty

NEAR KOUNTZ'S CORNER

When the Police Went After Hoskins They Succeeded In Capturing

A LARGE BUNCH OF GAMBLERS

Yesterday at a small shanty between here and Wellsville, Wilson Hoskins assaulted Butler Nailer and shoved him through a window. As a result Nailer had his head badly cut and a physician took eight stitches in the cut before it was as good as ever.

The Wellsville officials telephoned to the Liverpool officers at once, and Chief Thompson sent out his officers, but Hoskins fell into the hands of Officer Madden, of Wellsville.

The Liverpool officer who went to the shanty made a good haul, however. He found a gambling game in full process and placed H. A. Kountz, Peter Lyons, J. C. Curran and Henry Smith under arrest.

Kountz this morning pleaded guilty to running the place and was fined $50 and costs, while the balance of the outfit will be given hearings at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The actions were all brought under the state law.

▲ Bill to Be Introduced In the West Virginia Legislature
Will Knock Out

PROFITS OF HIS OFFICE

Proposed Bill Establishes the Office of County Treasurer
Which Duties Are

NOW PERFORMED BY SHERIFFS

There promises to be a battle royal in the West Virginia legislature before the present session is ended, and all because there is a disposition on the part of the lawmakers to create the office of treasurer in the various counties of the state.

At present the duties of the sheriff includes the collection of taxes and other work performed by treasurers of counties, and the fact that about nine-tenths of the income of a sheriff is derived from the fees and salary as treasurer, has caused the several sheriffs to be up in arms against the proposed legislation.

Were the offices separated there would be no inducement whatever for a good man to seek the berth of sheriff, and the result of this would be that an unreliable and untrustworthy man would occupy the place in almost every instance. This would be a very bad state of affairs, since, besides placing the affairs of one of the most important offices in the hands of incompetent men, the counties would be constantly involved in some sort of trouble in consequence of that unreliability. Under the proposed plan the constable of a district would be a more lucrative position than that of sheriff with less than one-half the responsibility.

Several meetings have been held by the various sheriffs looking to the formation of plans to fight the proposed change, and it is safe to say it will not go through without a battle. Sheriff W. W. Irwin, of Ohio county, is the main spirit in the opposition, and it now looks as though it would be extremely formidable.

However, it is quite likely that should the plan as formed by a few members of the legislature be adopted the various sheriffs will be appointed treasurer until the regular election.

CHINESE WAR.

The Consequences Are Being Seriously Felt in the Silk and Tea Trade.

Consul Hughes.

The consequences of the disturbances in China are being seriously felt in the silk and tea trade. The Chinese reduction of silk in 1900 is estimated at 4,500,000 kilograms (9,920,700 bushels). While this is by no means a bad result in itself, yet the uncertain conditions of business make it appear rather risky to import Chinese goods. This accounts for the great demand at Lyons this year for Syrian silk goods. Unfortunate, the present silk crop in Turkey is not very good, so that a rise of prices is probable.

The tea trade is in a similar position. The large houses that import are well provided, but there is a scarcity of freight steamers to load the cargoes. Insurance companies do not like to run risks and refuse to insure Chinese goods, while banks have ceased to advance money on this kind of merchandise.

ARIZONA.

The Play to be Presented Here by the Elks is One of the Finest.

"Arizona" will be the next big New York success to be seen here. This is the play which went to Chicago for four weeks and stayed fourteen, besides scoring one of the greatest dramatic successes in New York in a generation. In going to the alkali plains of Arizona for his theme, Mr. Thomas has found something new for the stage. He has, through the use of diversified characters and the help of good scenic artists, given this play as distinct a local color as was observed and admired in "Alabama." He has placed in dramatic or romantic relations United States soldiers, hardy cowboys, impetuous Mexicans and women more or less affected by these unnatural surroundings, and has made these relations, and the conduct of the various characters under them, as strong and as natural as if the whole personnel belonged to some metropolitan "set," and this too without destroying one of the marks of character differentiation. Indeed, the distinctness of types is one of the greatest merits of the play.

CANONSBURG POTTER

Has Been Leased to W. S. George And Will be Put in Operation at Once.

The directors of the Canonsburg China company held a meeting last week and the lease of the plant to W. S. George was duly executed. The plant will be put in operation at once, although it will necessarily be some time yet before a full force of hands can be put to work. But operations will be begun and the force increased as fast as may be.

The plant is pronounced by experienced pottery men to be one of the finest and most complete to be found anywhere, and Mr. George, who has leased and will run it, is one of the most successful pottery men in the country; so that we have every reason to believe that the town is about to have another successful industry.

SUPREME COURT.

REVERSES A FORMER JUDGMENT AND DECLARES

The Law Valid Which Entitles the Telephone Companies to Appeal to Probate Court.

The supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of Muskingum county in the case of the city of Zanesville vs. the Zanesville Telephone and Telegraph company, thereby reversing its own judgment of a few weeks ago.

Chief Justice Shauck and Judge Marshall dissent from the decision, as announced yesterday after rehearing. The case will be reported.

The court, in its former decision, reversing the judgment of the circuit court, held unconstitutional the law authorizing telephone companies to apply to the probate court to fix conditions under which they may use the streets of a city, in case they cannot reach an agreement with the municipal authorities. Whatever the consequences may be to the vast interests at stake, it seems evident that the decision may open the way for a flood of laws conferring legislative or administrative functions upon the judicial department of the government.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Yes, He is a Dandy Workman, But You Can Hardly Ever Catch Him Sober."

And this was the remark made to a well known jeweler of East Liverpool on Saturday afternoon last, in the presence of the writer, the man making the remark referring to a skilled workman in watch repairing and in the jewelry line. It is the same old, old story of the awful power for evil concentrated in the alcohol devil and in the accursed saloon.

A second story of the same kind came to this office on Saturday night, when a pottery worker, a sober and reliable and skilled workman, related an incident connected with a skilled fellow workman, as follows:

"Yes, the man I have reference to is very skillful. He is a married man, and a good investment for his employer, as he is faithful and true at his work when free from the curse of alcohol. The other day, when needed most, he was almost worthless, in consequence of a jubilee in which he had taken part the night before; and, as he was completely unnerved, he was no better than a loafer, and was a complete imposition on the man who was giving him good wages. Finally he went to an adjoining room and dropped off into a drunken slumber. One of the girls had occasion to pass his sleeping place, and she desired to know of me what was the matter with him. When I informed her, she expressed great surprise, as she stated that she knew he was a married man, with a nice wife and family, and further knew that the place he had been visiting was the abode of scarlet women. I told her that being married to a good woman did not necessarily prevent him from associating with such characters, as my experience has been that married men who are drinkers and visitors of saloons are the very worst class of men we have."

God speed the day when the saloon shall no longer exist in our land.

Finally he went to an adjoining room and dropped off into a drunken slumber. One of the girls had occasion to pass his sleeping place, and she desired to know of me what was the matter with him. When I informed her, she expressed great surprise, as she stated that she knew he was a married man, with a nice wife and family, and further knew that the place he had been visiting was the abode of scoundrel women. I told her that being married to a good woman did not necessarily prevent him from associating with such characters, as my experience has been that married men who are drinkers and visitors of saloons are the very worst class of men we have."

God speed the day when the saloon shall no longer exist in our land.

INCREASED BUSINESS.

MARKET IS DAILY WITNESSING AN INCREASED VOLUME.

Holiday Quiet Has Passed Away And the Potteries Are Receiving Large Orders.

China, Glass and Lamps.

The market is daily witnessing an increased volume of business. The holiday quiet is passing away and both manufacturers and jobbers find an improved demand setting in from their customers. The orders being received at the potteries are sometimes for considerable quantities, indicating a disposition on the part of the trade to purchase liberally, while at the same time there is an entire absence of the speculative element.

Traveling salesmen are actively at work and are sending in fair orders calling for assortments covering practically the entire line. While a good many western dealers have already been in the market, it is probable that many more have postponed their visits to the eastern centers of manufacture and distribution until the annual meeting of the National Association of Wholesalers in Crockery and Glassware, which opens in New York on February 1. Those from distant places who contemplate attending this meeting want to do so and make their spring selections of goods at the same time, so as to avoid the expense and loss of time incident to two trips. This has held several back who will be in evidence in the next few weeks.

The potteries are working to full capacity, as a rule, and will be in good shape to supply the wants of their customers when the time for heavy shipments arrives.

OLDEST AND YOUNGEST

Messengers of the Electoral College Met Recently in President Frye's Room.

Washington Post.

The oldest and youngest messengers of the electoral college met recently in the room of President Pro Tem Frye. The former was John R. Bennett, of Michigan, who is quite spry and vigorous, despite his 83 years of age, and the young man was Robert L. Offutt, of Kentucky, who is 34 years old.

In politics the two men were as far apart as in their ages. Mr. Bennett has been a Republican ever since the party was organized. There is a tradition in Michigan that the first Republican speech in the United States was delivered in a grove at Jackson, in that state, so that "the oaks of Jackson" have local fame as the cradle of the party.

Mr. Bennett listened to the speech and became, henceforth, a life-long convert. Mr. Offutt, on the other hand, is a Bourbon from Bourbonville. He hates a Republican like the devil hates holy water.

Origin of Words Papa and Mamma.

Did you ever wonder how the words "papa" and "mamma" came to be used instead of "father" and "mother?" It seems so easy and natural for children to say them nowadays, that the idea that there was a time when there was no such words seems a hard one to receive.

But it is true that once, long ago, children said "father" and "mother," with no pet names to use instead. The names "papa" and "mamma" came first into use in Italy, and the earliest trace that can be found of them is in a book printed in the year 1579. It was an Italian story by a writer named Lly, and the book was called Euphues. It was filled with curious and funny words which were then in use in that country.

A Contemporary Speaks Generous Words in Favor of the News Review.

The Columbian Independent, a neat and spicy little paper, published at Columbian, Ohio, speaks good words in favor of the News Review. Thanks, Messrs. Edgerton & Morlan; may your shadows never grow less, and may your ably conducted little journal find general favor with the masses. We reproduce the article spoken of, as follows:

"Suit has been entered in the common pleas court against the East Liverpool News Review for $5,000 damages on account of alleged libelous matter that has been published in that paper. It is said that a newspaper is never so prosperous and influential as when it has a suit for libel on its hands. The News Review is about the cleanest daily paper that is published in this section of the state, and its owners are in no danger of losing the suit if it is pushed, which we very much doubt."

A CRITICISM.

The Manner in Which a Youngstown Paper Goes After a Theatrical Performance.

The Youngstown Telegram in criticizing a theatrical production which recently appeared in that city says:

"There wasn't enough talent in the entire crowd to spring a new joke, and the one redeeming feature of the inane and idiotic nonsense that passed for entertainment was the Russian dancers, who were clever and had no more business to be with the crowd than a fan peddler in Ireland. Outside this one act there was no excuse to be offered why any of the alleged artists should be allowed to cause suffering to patrons of the theater. There were jokes with cobwebs and songs which the manner of their singing would cause a strike in a boiler shop working double turn."

Choir Picture.

The current number of the Living Church, published at Chicago, contains a large half-tone picture of the choirs of St. Stephen's church, East Liverpool, and St. Paul's, Steubenville; taken in front of the former church on the day of dedication on December 26. The title of the picture mistakenly classes the whole as St. Stephen's choir.

IF WOMEN WOULD HELP.

Mrs. Nation Said She Would Attack Topeka Saloons—Spoke In Churches.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation addressed a large audience at the United Brethren and First Christian churches in this city last night. She simply told the story of her work and how she had come to start on the crusade.

"It is a pleasure," she said, "to speak here. Usually I am prevented from talking by the proprietors of these murderous whisky shops. This issue in Kansas is 'Down with the whisky trust.' The best rocks to throw are votes. We women cannot vote, but you men with your ballots and we women with our hatchets will clean up the awful traffic."

Mrs. Nation will probably address the meeting of the Kansas W. C. T. U. organization, which will be held here today. An attempt is also being made to have her speak to the legislature on the subject of temperance. Mrs. Nation said she would not attempt to break up the joints in Topeka single handed, but if the women of the town would aid her she would start out "joint smashing" today.

THE FIRST GERMAN PAPER.

Ben Franklin In 1732 Printed the First Zeitung In America.

The first newspaper printed in the German language in America was the Philadelphische Zeitung, published by Benjamin Franklin in the year 1732. The Pennsylvania Gazette for June 8-15, 1732, contains the following announcement:

"The Gazette will come out on Monday next and continue to be published on Mondays.

"And on the Saturday following will be published Philadelphische Zeitung, or Newspaper in High Dutch, which will continue to be published on Saturdays once a fortnight, ready to be delivered at Ten a Clock, to Country Subscribers. Advertisements are taken in by the Printer hereof, or by Mr. Louis Timothee, Language Master, who translates them."

In undertaking this new enterprise Franklin expected to secure a liberal support from the German population of the province, for whom he had been doing considerable printing, but in this he was disappointed, and the publication of the Zeitung was discontinued after a few numbers had been issued.

The Zeitung was a small sheet of four pages, 6¹/₂ by 9 inches, the text printed in double columns with Roman type, and at the bottom of the fourth page bore the imprint: "Philadelphia: Gedruckt bey B. Franklin in der Marck-strasse, wo diese Zeitungen vor 5 Shillings des Jahrs zu bekommen, und Advertisements zu bestellen sind." The first number was issued June 10, 1732, and the second "Sonnabend den 24. Juni, 1732." The publication of the Zeitung, therefore, antedates by seven years the Hoch-Deutsch Pennsylvaniaische Geschicht-Schreiber, published by Christopher Saur.—Chicago Times Herald.

Come to Jesus.

O soul, alone and weary,
With burdens hard oppressed,
Come lean thy fainting heart tonight
Upon the Saviour's breast.

A refuge safe and quiet
In Jesus thou shalt find;
The calmness of his changeless love
Will heal thy troubled mind.

O soul, grown sick of sinning,
Bowed low with shame and grief,
Christ waiteth to receive thee now;
His mercy brings relief.

O heart, oppressed and weary,
Thy rest thou'll never find;
Until thou find it in the arms
So strong and true and kind.

Couldn't See the Humor.

"I can't for the life of me see," remarked an Englishman during the course of conversation with Nat Goodwin once, "what people mean by American humor. To me all humor is alike, whether it be of American or English origin. Perhaps you can explain to me just what distinguishes American humor from any other sort?"

"Well," replied Mr. Goodwin, "I think the American type of humor is rather more subtle. It doesn't always fully impress itself upon you at once. The more you think about it the funnier it seems. I can perhaps best illustrate my meaning with a little story.

"A man was walking along the street one day when he passed another man who was carrying a letter in his hand.

"Pardon me," said the man with the letter. "Do you know where the post office is?"

"Yes," said the other man and passed on. On second thought he decided that he had been rude and went back to where the man with the letter was still standing.

"Do you wish to know where the post office is?" he asked.

"No," said the other man.

The Englishman's gaze was vacant. "Just turn it over in your mind for a few minutes and tell me what you think of it," said Mr. Goodwin.

Ten minutes later the Englishman clutched at Mr. Goodwin's elbow. "You won't be offended, will you, old chap?" he murmured. "But, really, I think they were both blawsted rude!"—Saturday Evening Post.

"Suit has been entered in the common pleas court against the East Liverpool News Review for $5,000 damages on account of alleged libelous matter that has been published in that paper. It is said that a newspaper is never so prosperous and influential as when it has a suit for libel on its hands. The News Review is about the cleanest daily paper that is published in this section of the state, and its owners are in no danger of losing the suit if it is pushed, which we very much doubt."

A CRITICISM.

The Manner in Which a Youngstown Paper Goes After a Theatrical Performance.

The Youngstown Telegram in criticizing a theatrical production which recently appeared in that city says:

"There wasn't enough talent in the entire crowd to spring a new joke, and the one redeeming feature of the inane and idiotic nonsense that passed for entertainment was the Russian dancers, who were clever and had no more business to be with the crowd than a fan peddler in Ireland. Outside this one act there was no excuse to be offered why any of the alleged artists should be allowed to cause suffering to patrons of the theater. There were jokes with cobwebs and songs which the manner of their singing would cause a strike in a boiler shop working double turn."

Choir Picture.

The current number of the Living Church, published at Chicago, contains a large half-tone picture of the choirs of St. Stephen's church, East Liverpool, and St. Paul's, Steubenville; taken in front of the former church on the day of dedication on December 26. The title of the picture mistakenly classes the whole as St. Stephen's choir.

ASK LEWIS BROTHERS ABOUT IT.

IF WOMEN WOULD HELP.

Mrs. Nation Said She Would Attack Topeka Saloons—Spoke In Churches.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation addressed a large audience at the United Brethren and First Christian churches in this city last night. She simply told the story of her work and how she had come to start on the crusade.

"It is a pleasure," she said, "to speak here. Usually I am prevented from talking by the proprietors of these murderous whisky shops. This issue in Kansas is 'Down with the whisky trust.' The best rocks to throw are votes. We women cannot vote, but you men with your ballots and we women with our hatchets will clean up the awful traffic."

Mrs. Nation will probably address the meeting of the Kansas W. C. T. U. organization, which will be held here today. An attempt is also being made to have her speak to the legislature on the subject of temperance. Mrs. Nation said she would not attempt to break up the joints in Topeka single handed, but if the women of the town would aid her she would start out "joint smashing" today.

THE FIRST GERMAN PAPER.

Ben Franklin In 1732 Printed the First Zeitung In America.

The first newspaper printed in the German language in America was the Philadelphische Zeitung, published by Benjamin Franklin in the year 1732. The Pennsylvania Gazette for June 8-15, 1732, contains the following announcement:

"The Gazette will come out on Monday next and continue to be published on Mondays."

"And on the Saturday following will be published Philadelphische Zeitung, or Newspaper in High Dutch, which will continue to be published on Saturdays once a fortnight, ready to be delivered at Ten a Clock, to Country Subscribers. Advertisements are taken in by the Printer hereof, or by Mr. Louis Timothee, Language Master, who translates them."

In undertaking this new enterprise Franklin expected to secure a liberal support from the German population of the province, for whom he had been doing considerable printing, but in this he was disappointed, and the publication of the Zeitung was discontinued after a few numbers had been issued.

The Zeitung was a small sheet of four pages, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 9 inches, the text printed in double columns with Roman type, and at the bottom of the fourth page bore the imprint: "Philadelphia: Gedruckt bey B. Franklin in der Marck-strasse, wo diese Zeitungen vor 5 Shillings des Jahrs zu bekommen, und Advertisements zu bestellen sind." The first number was issued June 10, 1732, and the second "Sonnabend den 24. Juni, 1732." The publication of the Zeitung, therefore, antedates by seven years the Hoch-Deutsch Pennsylvanische Geschicht-Schreiber, published by Christopher Saur.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Come to Jesus.
O soul, alone and weary,
With burdens hard oppressed,
Come lean thy fainting heart tonight
Upon the Saviour's breast.

A refuge safe and quiet:
In Jesus thou shalt find:
The calmness of his changeless love
Will heal thy troubled mind.

O soul, grown sick of sinning,
Bowed low with shame and grief,
Christ waiteth to receive thee now:
His mercy brings relief.

O heart, oppressed and weary,
Thy rest thou'll never find
Until thou find it in the arms
So strong and true and kind.

Couldn't See the Humor.

"I can't for the life of me see," remarked an Englishman during the course of conversation with Nat Goodwin once, "what people mean by American humor. To me all humor is alike, whether it be of American or English origin. Perhaps you can explain to me just what distinguishes American humor from any other sort?"

"Well," replied Mr. Goodwin, "I think the American type of humor is rather more subtle. It doesn't always fully impress itself upon you at once. The more you think about it the funnier it seems. I can perhaps best illustrate my meaning with a little story."

"A man was walking along the street one day when he passed another man who was carrying a letter in his hand.

"Pardon me," said the man with the letter. "Do you know where the post office is?"

"Yes," said the other man and passed on. On second thought he decided that he had been rude and went back to where the man with the letter was still standing.

"Do you wish to know where the post office is?" he asked.

"No," said the other man. "The Englishman's gaze was vacant. "Just turn it over in your mind for a few minutes and tell me what you think of it," said Mr. Goodwin.

Ten minutes later the Englishman clutched at Mr. Goodwin's elbow. "You won't be offended, will you, old chap?" he murmured. "But, really, I think they were both blawsted rude!"—Saturday Evening Post.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 1901.

UNDER THE STATE LAW

There will be some sensational work done in this city by and through state officials in the near future, if a halt is not called on some very bad work now going on. Men may think that they have a splendid pull, and will not discover their error until their establishments are pulled, and enjoy the diluted pleasure of paying the piper or fiddler. We await developments.

A LOAFER.

The fellow who loafers and plays off on his employer is not gifted with intellect or consumed with smartness. Sooner or later punishment overtakes him, and an honest workman steps into his place. And then still hotter punishment comes to the loafer, as his late employer will not command him to any other employer. The loafer is never a true unionist. He cannot be. It is an impossibility in the very nature of the case.

OUR JOB DEPARTMENT.

At this season of the year we do not expect a rush of job work. This precedent does not hold good this season. We are crowded with orders and are compelled to work over time. We can only account for this in the fact that East Liverpool citizens, as a rule, are great lovers of fair play, and they demonstrate this fact by sending us their work, as they reason from the standpoint that actions speak louder than words.

RUFFIANISM.

Three ladies were coming home last evening at an early hour from Wellsville. One of the ladies is the wife of one of our most prominent and best respected business men of East Liverpool, and the other two are lady visitors of her's from Philadelphia. There were several young blackguards on board the car, and they made use of the most offensive remarks, directed against the ladies in question. The ladies were naturally very indignant, but their good sense and refinement prevented them from making any answer to the toughs, whom they treated with silent contempt. But they were determined that they would not remain in such company a moment longer than actually necessary, and halted the car for the purpose of alighting therefrom. The conductor knew where the ladies desired to go, and prevailed upon them remaining upon the car until they reached their destination. The ladies do not know whether or not the conductor heard the remarks made by the young toughs. And now we call upon Manager Healy and our city officials to take immediate measures to stop this class of ruffianism. Complaints have been numerous of late respecting the conduct of toughs, male and female, who travel between this city and Wellsville at a late hour; but this has been the first case reported when such outrageous conduct has been indulged in on our street cars at such an early hour in the evening. The conductors and motormen on the cars should be empowered to act as officers of the law, with authority to make arrests in case of necessity, and in other cases to take the names of offenders and report them to headquarters, when the law will inflict such punishment as will deter such blackguards from future bad work, at least when on the street cars.

MERCY DEMANDS IT.

Justice calls for it in stentorian and prolonged tones. And then mercy chimes in and pleads for the same desired consummation. And then common humanity asserts that we should have it. And then common sense wonders why it has not been in full play in our midst for so these many years. And then city pride cries out that she has been humbled by the failure to have it materialize. What? Of course we have reference to that contemplated city hospital which has been builded so often in vivid imaginations. Good and true women have battled for it and begged for it. Our most skilled and most prominent physicians have pronounced it a necessity. Humanitarians have cried out that it ought to be erected. And still it has failed to materialize. Why? Simply because our monied men have failed to respond to the call for charity and benevolence along this particular line of duty and interest. Monroe Patterson offers to pay into the treasury the sum of $50.00 for each kiln erected at his pottery; this aside from his individual contribution. Mr. Patterson believes that if this plan shall be followed up by the other pottery manufacturers, the hospital fund will be made a success and that the building will be erected. Push the good work along. Talk it up to your neighbor. Don't let the matter die. We ought to have a hospital in East Liverpool, and we ought to commence its erection without delay. Agitate the matter. We have a grandly charitable people in this city. All that is necessary to do is to get them fully awake to the fact that humanity and mercy and love demand that a hospital shall be builded and maintained in East Liverpool. And, by the way, tell the pastors of your churches to notify their membership that we want and must have a hospital at this point; and tell the aforesaid pastors to make note that faith and works should be combined in their fullness in this much needed humanity. Turn on the power.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Evangelistic Services Have Been Wonderfully Interesting Of Late.

Great audiences have been in attendance. Saturday night was one of special interest, the mercy seat being crowded and many professing conversion and some sanctification.

Sabbath school yesterday will long be remembered by those who took part therein. Between fifty and sixty children dedicated their lives to the service of the Master, and a number of adults were added to the church. The evangelist states that the incident was one of universal delight and pleasure to him.

Sunday morning services were greeted by a large audience, and a number of persons joined the church.

The afternoon meeting lasted for fully three hours, and the mercy seat was crowded with communicants.

There was an immense audience present at night. The evangelist took as his subject the dying thieves on the cross, speaking of the one as accepting and the other as rejecting Christ. He stated that the world at large has been taught to look at the thief who was saved at the last moment of his life on this earth; but the teachers fail to impart the knowledge of the fact that there was also a thief who failed to ask for the mercy of the blessed Christ and went to his doom scoffing and cursing and rejecting the Savior. The speaker then divided the world at large into two classes—the saved and the unsaved; the righteous and the wicked; the eternally happy and the eternally miserable. Evangelist Smith does not smooth matters over and pat sinners upon the back and call them good fellows. He is evidently a teacher who loves all men and all women and all children; loving them for eternity even better than for this life, and he preaches plain gospel truth, telling them that without conversion and experimental religion, through the atonement made by Jesus, they cannot have eternal life.

The mercy seat was crowded, and other seekers were kneeling at the front benches. Many professed conversion, while others professed sanctification.

Evangelist Smith has consented to remain for tonight's services, and he will preach at the usual hour. You have an urgent invitation to be present. The revival services will be continued indefinitely.

The conductors and motormen on the cars should be empowered to act as officers of the law, with authority to make arrests in case of necessity, and in other cases to take the names of offenders and report them to headquarters, when the law will inflict such punishment as will deter such blackguards from future bad work, at least when on the street cars.

MERCY DEMANDS IT.

Justice calls for it in stentorian and prolonged tones. And then mercy chimes in and pleads for the same desired consummation. And then common humanity asserts that we should have it. And then common sense wonders why it has not been in full play in our midst for so these many years. And then city pride cries out that she has been humbled by the failure to have it materialize. What? Of course we have reference to that contemplated city hospital which has been builded so often in vivid imaginations. Good and true women have battled for it and begged for it. Our most skilled and most prominent physicians have pronounced it a necessity. Humanitarians have cried out that it ought to be erected. And still it has failed to materialize. Why? Simply because our monied men have failed to respond to the call for charity and benevolence along this particular line of duty and interest. Monroe Patterson offers to pay into the treasury the sum of $50.00 for each kiln erected at his pottery; this aside from his individual contribution. Mr. Patterson believes that if this plan shall be followed up by the other pottery manufacturers, the hospital fund will be made a success and that the building will be erected. Push the good work along. Talk it up to your neighbor. Don't let the matter die. We ought to have a hospital in East Liverpool, and we ought to commence its erection without delay. Agitate the matter. We have a grandly charitable people in this city. All that is necessary to do is to get them fully awake to the fact that humanity and mercy and love demand that a hospital shall be builded and maintained in East Liverpool. And, by the way, tell the pastors of your churches to notify their membership that we want and must have a hospital at this point; and tell the aforesaid pastors to make note that faith and works should be combined in their fullness in this much needed humanity. Turn on the power.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Evangelistic Services Have Been Wonderfully Interesting Of Late.

Great audiences have been in attendance. Saturday night was one of special interest, the mercy seat being crowded and many professing conversion and some sanctification.

Sabbath school yesterday will long be remembered by those who took part therein. Between fifty and sixty children dedicated their lives to the service of the Master, and a number of adults were added to the church. The evangelist states that the incident was one of universal delight and pleasure to him.

Sunday morning services were greeted by a large audience, and a number of persons joined the church.

The afternoon meeting lasted for fully three hours, and the mercy seat was crowded with communicants.

There was an immense audience present at night. The evangelist took as his subject the dying thieves on the cross, speaking of the one as accepting and the other as rejecting Christ. He stated that the world at large has been taught to look at the thief who was saved at the last moment of his life on this earth; but the teachers fail to impart the knowledge of the fact that there was also a thief who failed to ask for the mercy of the blessed Christ and went to his doom scoffing and cursing and rejecting the Savior. The speaker then divided the world at large into two classes—the saved and the unsaved; the righteous and the wicked; the eternally happy and the eternally miserable. Evangelist Smith does not smooth matters over and pat sinners upon the back and call them good fellows. He is evidently a teacher who loves all men and all women and all children; loving them for eternity even better than for this life, and he preaches plain gospel truth, telling them that without conversion and experimental religion, through the atonement made by Jesus, they cannot have eternal life.

The mercy seat was crowded, and other seekers were kneeling at the front benches. Many professed conversion, while others professed sanctification.

Evangelist Smith has consented to remain for tonight's services, and he will preach at the usual hour. You have an urgent invitation to be present. The revival services will be continued indefinitely.

THE HEIRS OF AN ESTATE

For $20,000 Damages For Alienating
the Affections of His Loving Wife.

PROMINENT W. VA. PEOPLE

The domestic troubles in the family of Nathaniel Roseberry, one of the best known and most prominent residents of New Cumberland, have resulted in two suits being entered in the Hancock county courts, one for divorce, the other asking damages in the sum of $20,000.

Some three weeks ago Mrs. Roseberry filed a petition for divorce, asking that her maiden name of Wylie be restored to her, together with the custody of their two minor children. It is said the family relations have been strained for a long time, and this action is the outcome of a great deal of mischief making on the part of relatives.

On January 17, Roseberry entered suit for $20,000 against the estate of Monroe Wylie, to which his wife is an heir, charging them with alienating his wife's affections, claiming that they influenced the wife to bring the divorce action, having opposed their marriage in the beginning and interfering in various ways since that time to bring about a separation.

Mrs. Roseberry is a daughter of the late Monroe Wylie, of Butler district, and the family is among the most prominent in the county.

Will Likely Prove Fatal in the Family of George Burlingame, East End.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burlingame, who has been afflicted with diphtheria for the past few days, is dangerously ill, and it is thought he cannot recover. The family had doctored the boy for mumps and did not call the physician who now has charge of the case for about four days after the disease had developed, so that there was really nothing to work upon, as the affliction had gained such headway that it was almost impossible to do anything for the relief of the patient.

There are five other children in the same family, but anti-toxine was administered, and it is thought they have not been exposed.

Slow Progress.

Work on the grading of the road around the hill on the Smith property is progressing slowly these days on account of the weather. A large force is at work and the grading has been completed to a point on the east side of the hill, and from now on the progress will be necessarily slow.

In Bad Condition.

The river road between East End and the city proper is almost impassable.

Teamsters and dairymen who are compelled to use the road have great difficulty in getting along, as it is very difficult along the thoroughfare even with an empty wagon.

About a week ago Alfred, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hand, who reside on Railroad street, near Ralston's crossing, went to the home of his grandparents, near West Point, for the purpose of paying them a visit.

On last Thursday the boy was brought to this city, but did not go home. Instead he went to East End, where he remained until yesterday. The parents were not aware that he had returned until Saturday, and were alarmed lest some harm had befallen him. They immediately informed the authorities, who instituted a search, with the result that the boy was located at the home of Alex Dobbs in the East End on Sunday.

The youngster had told the Dobbs family a hard luck story, and they took him in. He will be looked after pretty closely in the future, as he has a mania for taking trips, and on several previous occasions some difficulty has been experienced in locating him.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. N. M. Crowe Yesterday Morning
Delivered An Excellent
Sermon.

Rev. N. M. Crowe preached at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning from Matthew 5:15-16.

Jesus Christ came to earth not only to preach, but to teach, and the successful methods of teaching in use today were used by him. He was an original thinker and teacher, his thought and teaching exciting the purest imagination and best attention. The text is taken from the first part of the sermon on the Mount, and is particularly addressed to his disciples then and now. He gave a statement of the quality of the true Christian: ye are the salt of the earth, showing the disciple his personal relationship to the world. As salt would save or preserve a food product from decay, so go you, as a disciple, with great desire for the salvation of the world.

Be a light to the world that is in darkness. Man, however, cannot give light of himself, but being lighted by the Holy Spirit, man can, and God expects him to shine. "The entrance of the word giveth light." It is the Holy Spirit who regenerates, who gives the new birth, the new life and light. We are to shine, not in a restricted way, hiding our light as it were under a bushel measure, but as a light set upon a hill; as a light from a lighthouse. We must "so" shine. God expects, yes God demands, of every believer, first, that he should so live as to personally glorify him, and second, to live in such a way that others may see our good works and glorify our Father in heaven.

We don't claim that its the finest lying addition in the city, but we do claim that these lots are the best to be had for the money within the same distance from the business center. They are of easy access by reason of the paved street leading to them. Water and gas are there. They have good drainage. They are high enough to be above the fog and smoke, yet not so very far away that street cars are necessary to reach them, nor so high as to be exposed to the fury of the storm, wintry blast or summer heat. Further, while they last there is not a family in the city but what can own a home here within a very short time, for we make the following liberal offer: We will sell them at $5 cash down, and payments thereafter, averaging $1 per week, with low rate of interest and when you have paid one-half of the purchase price of the lot, we will have erected for you, according to your own plans, a house of three, four or five rooms, substantially built and complete in every respect, which you can then occupy and pay off the balance in payments from $8 to $12 per month, according to price of house. SOUTH SIDE. FAMILY TROUBLES ARE NOW IN COURT

Mrs. Roseberry Sued Her Husband
For Divorce and Then He
Sued

THE HEIRS OF AN ESTATE

For $20,000 Damages For Alienating
the Affections of His Loving Wife.

PROMINENT W. VA. PEOPLE

The domestic troubles in the family of Nathaniel Roseberry, one of the best known and most prominent residents of New Cumberland, have resulted in two suits being entered in the Hancock county courts, one for divorce, the other asking damages in the sum of $20,000.

Some three weeks ago Mrs. Roseberry filed a petition for divorce, asking that her maiden name of Wylie be restored to her, together with the custody of their two minor children. It is said the family relations have been strained for a long time, and this action is the outcome of a great deal of mischief making on the part of relatives.

On January 17, Roseberry entered suit for $20,000 against the estate of Monroe Wylie, to which his wife is an heir, charging them with alienating his wife's affections, claiming that they influenced the wife to bring the divorce action, having opposed their marriage in the beginning and interfering in various ways since that time to bring about a separation.

Mrs. Roseberry is a daughter of the late Monroe Wylie, of Butler district, and the family is among the most prominent in the county.

Will Start Soon.

Now that the porcelain works promised for the Southside are an assured fact, the people are anxious to see the work started, and it is probable they will not have long to wait, as the company will have things well under way when the spring opens up.

A Social.

On Thursday evening the Chester American Mechanics will hold a box social in their hall over the postoffice, and from the elaborate preparations under way, the affair promises to be one of the most enjoyable ever held by the organization.

Delayed a Moving.

Robert Marshall will move this week from Chester to the Johnson Messer farm, south of town. The gentleman had arranged his plans to go last week, but owing to the illness of his wife the trip was postponed.

Four Cases.

Four children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Carolina avenue, near Fifth street, are afflicted with measles. None of the cases are of a serious nature.

EAST END.

DIPHTHERIA

Will Likely Prove Fatal in the Family of George Burlingame, East End.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burlingame, who has been afflicted with diphtheria for the past few days, is dangerously ill, and it is thought he cannot recover. The family had doctored the boy for mumps and did not call the physician who now has charge of the case for about four days after the disease had developed, so that there was really nothing to work upon, as the affliction had gained such headway that it was almost impossible to do anything for the relief of the patient.

There are five other children in the same family, but anti-toxine was administered, and it is thought they have not been exposed.

Slow Progress.

Work on the grading of the road around the hill on the Smith property is progressing slowly these days on account of the weather. A large force is at work and the grading has been completed to a point on the east side of the hill, and from now on the progress will be necessarily slow.

In Bad Condition.

The river road between East End and the city proper is almost impassable.

Teamsters and dairymen who are compelled to use the road have great difficulty in getting along, as it is very difficult along the thoroughfare even with an empty wagon.

Among the Sick.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snowden, of Ohio avenue, are ill with grip.

Cross Kerr is ill at the Todd House, suffering with grip. The gentleman came to East End several days ago for the purpose of doing some stone work and was taken ill shortly afterward.

Elsie Ecke Dead.

The funeral of Katherine, the six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ecke, took place yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday evening another child in the same family died of a complication of diseases. The little one will be buried tomorrow.

To Entertain.

A social will be held at the Second U. P. church under the auspices of the Junior Young People's society. The affair is being arranged by the little folks for the purpose of entertaining their parents, and refreshments will be served.

East End Notes.

Rev. J. R. Greene will go to Conquering, Pa., this week, where he will assist Rev. Grimes in a series of meetings.

The services at the various East End churches yesterday were well attended and very interesting.

Mrs. Dr. Marshall and Mrs. James Elliott will entertain on Thursday afternoon and evening.

SMALL HAND BOY HAD DISAPPEARED

His Parents Were Alarmed About
Him and the Story Was

Boy Had Visited His Grandparents
Near West Point and Upon
His Return

HE FAILED TO GO HOME

About a week ago Alfred, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hand, who reside on Railroad street, near Ralston's crossing, went to the home of his grandparents, near West Point, for the purpose of paying them a visit.

On last Thursday the boy was brought to this city, but did not go home. Instead he went to East End, where he remained until yesterday. The parents were not aware that he had returned until Saturday, and were alarmed lest some harm had befallen him. They immediately informed the authorities, who instituted a search, with the result that the boy was located at the home of Alex Dobbs in the East End on Sunday.

The youngster had told the Dobbs family a hard luck story, and they took him in. He will be looked after pretty closely in the future, as he has a mania for taking trips, and on several previous occasions some difficulty has been experienced in locating him.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. N. M. Crowe Yesterday Morning
Delivered An Excellent
Sermon.

Rev. N. M. Crowe preached at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning from Matthew 5:15-16.

Jesus Christ came to earth not only to preach, but to teach, and the successful methods of teaching in use today were used by him. He was an original thinker and teacher, his thought and teaching exciting the purest imagination and best attention. The text is taken from the first part of the sermon on the Mount, and is particularly addressed to his disciples then and now. He gave a statement of the quality of the true Christian: ye are the salt of the earth, showing the disciple his personal relationship to the world. As salt would save or preserve a food product from decay, so go you, as a disciple, with great desire for the salvation of the world.

Be a light to the world that is in darkness. Man, however, cannot give light of himself, but being lighted by the Holy Spirit, man can, and God expects him to shine. "The entrance of the word giveth light." It is the Holy Spirit who regenerates, who gives the new birth, the new life and light. We are to shine, not in a restricted way, hiding our light as it were under a bushel measure, but as a light set upon a hill; as a light from a lighthouse. We must "so" shine. God expects, yes God demands, of every believer, first, that he should so live as to personally glorify him, and second, to live in such a way that others may see our good works and glorify our Father in heaven.

FOR RENT—Three rooms for rent. Inquire of J. B. McKinnon, 111 Washington street.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

Situate on the lower side of the extension of Bank street, a paved street which leaves off east side of Avondale street three squares up, lies our

ALPHA ADDITION.

We haven't been saying much about this plan of lots. Rather been letting it take care of itself. In 90 days spring will be here and people, like birds, will be thinking of house building, hence, we now call your especial attention to it. We don't claim that its the finest lying addition in the city, but we do claim that these lots are the best to be had for the money within the same distance from the business center. They are of easy access by reason of the paved street leading to them. Water and gas are there. They have good drainage. They are high enough to be above the fog and smoke, yet not so very far away that street cars are necessary to reach them, nor so high as to be exposed to the fury of the storm, wintry blast or summer heat. Further, while they last there is not a family in the city but what can own a home here within a very short time, for we make the following liberal offer: We will sell them at $5 cash down, and payments thereafter, averaging $1 per week, with low rate of interest and when you have paid one-half of the purchase price of the lot, we will have erected for you, according to your own plans, a house of three, four or five rooms, substantially built and complete in every respect, which you can then occupy and pay off the balance in payments from $8 to $12 per month, according to price of house. Your rent is costing you that now. Is it not possible for you to spare $1 a week until you pay a lot one-half off. The prices range from $150 to $275 the Lot.

Situate on the east side of Calcutta Road, about three minutes' walk beyond Riverview cemetery is our

BETA PLAN OF LOTS.

About a score of lots here for sale. They lie on the north and south side of a slightly elevated ridge, a street 50 feet wide running east and west occupying its summit and separating the lots in two tiers. A good view is obtained of the surrounding country, the scope of which takes in Thompson's Boulevard and Park, Riverview Cemetery, part of Gardendale and Maplewood. A beautiful place for a suburban home you will admit upon seeing them. Street cars will be passing this allotment by May. One is as good as another and they are all good, hence we sell at $125 for choice, payable $10 down and balance $5 per month.

Situate adjoining west side of Oakland, (East End) and between Globe street and C. & P. R. R., is the

GAMMA ADDITION.

We had 18 lots here, but a number have been sold. No prettier or nicer lying land in East End than this addition. Several new houses are in the course of erection and prices are stiffening in the locality. $300 is the full market value, but we still are selling at $250 each, payable $25 down and $10 monthly. No one can make any mistake in buying in East End, for events are trending for its development and improvement.

Situate on that plateau above the West End is

PLEASANT HEIGHTS.

This addition is well known to all. Residences here will be prized by many on account of the pure atmosphere and beautiful view obtained. We have quite a number of lots here. In contemplation of the completion of street car transit to this suburb and the opening up of the shorter route to the city by way of Sheridan avenue, May and Pleasant streets, people are buying these lots. We have a number of the choice ones to offer you at $100, $115 and $125, payable $10 down and $5 monthly.

IN MEMORY OF QUEEN.

Services Held Throughout the British Kingdom.

TOUCHING SERMON BY TEMPLE.

The Archbishop of Canterbury Preached to a Big Audience—Roman Catholic and Foreign Churches Held Special Services—Arch-Deacon in London Preached.

London, Jan. 28.—Sunday throughout the kingdom all places of worship held services in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's cathedral there was an unusual scene. Before 9 o'clock in the morning an enormous crowd, wholly attired in black, streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands, unable to obtain admission, stood vainly waiting on the steps and around listening to the low organ strains and muffled peal. The service began at 10:30. The most Rev. Frederick Temple, primate and archbishop of Canterbury, preached a most touching sermon.

There was a similar scene at Westminster abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations. The large assemblage in the chapel royal at St. James' palace included Princess Frederica of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of titled people, many members of the cabinet and other distinguished persons.

All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French embassy attended the French church, and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian embassy by command of Emperor Nicholas.

Everywhere particular attention was paid to the musical portion of the service. At Lincoln's Inn chapel Brahms' "Requiem Mass" was performed.

The venerable William MacDonald Sinclair, archdeacon of London, and canon of St. Paul's cathedral, preached a commemorative discourse at Canterbury cathedral.

Special sermons were preached in St. George's chapel at Windsor. Cathedrals and churches were draped with mourning at a number of places. Messages from the colonials and from all the principal cities abroad where British subjects reside reported memorial services. Sir Alfred Milner attended the service at the cathedral in Cape Town.

Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, accompanied by the countess, attended an afternoon service Sunday at St. Patrick's cathedral in Dublin.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Lord Roberts and Mr. William St. John Frederick, secretary of state for war, were present at morning prayers in Whippingham church about 11 o'clock today. About an hour later King Edward, Queen Alexandra and all the royal personages now at Osborne, arrived at the church for the memorial service. This was a simple function, the hymns being sung by an unsurpassed choir of school children. Sir Walter Parratt, private organist to the late queen and organist to St. George's chapel royal, Windsor, played several funeral excerpts.

The bishop of Winchester, who was the preacher for the occasion, delivered an eloquent panegyric upon Victoria, and declared that Emperor William's action in coming to the deathbed had touched the hearts of the British people and cemented the unity and friendship of the two kindred nations.

At the conclusion of the service all stood during a performance of the "Dead March."

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Sunday morning Emperor William received from the hand of the Duke of Connaught his sword on his appointment as field marshal of the British army, in the presence of the households of King Edward and the dead queen, as well as a number of British and German naval officers. His majesty has expressed great delight at the appointment. He will entertain King Edward and the members of the royal family at tea on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern.

Sunday he celebrated his birthday at Osborne and received congratulations from the members of the German embassy in London.

HONOR QUEEN'S MEMORY.

Services Held in Some of the Churches in New York, Washington and Chicago.

New York, Jan. 28.—Many of the sermons delivered at the various churches in the city Sunday were in memory of the late queen and eulogic of her character. Several churches held regular memorial exercises. The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix devoted the greater part of his sermon to the late queen, and the Rev. Dr. George R. Vandewater, of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, delivered eulogy as a prelude to his morning service. Rev. Charles Eaton, of the Church of the Divine Paternity; Rev. Dr. A. E. Kittredge, of the Madison Avenue Reformed; Rev. Dr. S. P. Cadman, of the Central Metropolitan Temple; Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, of the Fifth Avenue Collegiate; Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie, of the Scotch Presbyterian, and Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, of Calvary Baptist, all devoted their entire sermons to eulogies of the queen. Dr. MacArthur, in opening his sermon, severely criticised Mayor Van Wyck for refusing to half mast the flag on the city hall, saying: "New York has been humiliated by the refusal of its mayor to make official recognition of the respect felt by all true citizens and patriotic Americans for the queen."

Washington, Jan. 28.—Queen Victoria's life, reign and death formed the theme in many Washington pulpits Sunday, while in most of the local churches of all denominations fitting reference was made to the demise of the ruler of the British empire. At Epiphany church an elaborate service was celebrated about 11 o'clock in memoriam. Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, the rector, delivered a sermon on the life and death of the queen. A special musical program was arranged for the service.

Lord Pauncefort, the British ambassador, attended the service, accompanied by Lady Pauncefort and the Misses Pauncefort; Mr. Gerard A. Lowther, the first secretary; Mr. H. C. Norman, third secretary, and Mr. Burton-Alexander, honorary attaché of the embassy. Members of the Sons of St. George were conspicuous among the congregation. The service was one of marked solemnity.

At the First Baptist church Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage spoke of the queen's death.

Memorial sermons were preached by Rev. Mackay-Smith at St. John's Protestant Episcopal church and by Rev. Dr. Bristol at the Metropolitan M. E. church.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Memorial services in honor of Queen Victoria were held in 50 different churches in this city Sunday. There was no concert of movement and no pre-arranged program, each service being conducted independently. The life and character of the late queen were highly extolled by all the ministers, the belief being expressed that the sorrow felt, particularly by all English-speaking races, at her death will prove a bond of union hereafter between America and England. A formal memorial service will be held next Sunday in the Auditorium, and it is already certain that many thousands of people will be unable to gain admission, so great has been the demand for tickets.

MEMORIAL TO QUEEN.

Contributions Made During Services in a Chicago Church, For One in That City.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The first contributions toward a fund for a permanent memorial in Chicago to Queen Victoria were made at the services held in the Trinity Episcopal church Sunday. A large sum was realized, which will be held by the treasurer of Trinity church until the character and the form of the memorial is decided upon.

EXPRESSED GREAT GRIEF.

Colonel Larkin, of the Royal Household, First Heard of Queen's Death, Off Sandy Hook.

New York, Jan. 28.—Colonel Cuthbert Larkin, of the royal household, gentleman of the privy chamber, and for about 20 years equerry to the Duke of Connaught, arrived on the American line steamer St. Louis Sunday and expressed great grief at learning of the recent death of Queen Victoria.

"It is an irreparable loss to the nation," said Colonel Larkin. "We first heard the sad news from the pilot at Sandy Hook last night and this morning I received a cablegram announcing her majesty's death."

Colonel Larkin will remain in the United States for a fortnight, visiting friends whose acquaintance he made 10 years ago.

Another Death From Plague.

Hull, England, Jan. 28.—Another death from the plague occurred among the members of the crew of the British steamer Friary, which left Alexandria Dec. 22, via Algiers, Dec. 31, for this port.

MISSIONARIES' WORK.

Wu Endorses Praise of Li Hung Chang.

REPLIES TO A CRITICISM BY HOYT.

The Philadelphia Clergyman in a Recent Sermon, Referred to the Utterances of the Great Statesman and Asked What Reply the Chinese Minister Could Make.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Wu Ting Fang, China's minister plenipotentiary to the United States, delivered a lecture on "Confucius and Mencius" before the Society of Ethical Culture at Horticultural hall. There was a large crowd present. In a talk at the close of his lecture he referred to criticisms raised by Minister Wu's recent utterances in New York city on the subject of Christianity.

At one point Minister Wu quoted an extract from the sermon of the Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of this city, on Sunday, Dec. 16, in which the latter spoke of Li Hung Chang's high tribute to the work of the Christian missionaries in China, and asked what reply the Chinese minister could make. He said in part:

"Dr. Hoyt has done me, though doubtless unwittingly, a gross injustice. Since he wants a reply I have no hesitation in giving him one. I endorse every word that Earl Li has said on the subject of foreign missionaries as cited by the doctor. To prove that I am sincere in what I say I beg to refer the doctor to the address I delivered in December last before the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia on the "Causes of the Unpopularity of Foreigners in China." I suppose the doctor had not read that address, or if he had read it he has forgotten it. In any case, I would not believe that an eminent divine could be capable of purposely misrepresenting us."

"Again, Dr. Hoyt and some other clergymen, from their addresses, seem to think that I charged all missionaries with crying out for vengeance. Let me read the exact words I used. 'Love your enemy, is Christ's command, but at this moment some Christian missionaries are crying out for vengeance and bloodshed.' Note that I used the word 'some.'"

Pekin, Jan. 28.—There has been great distress in the province of Shan Si, owing to the famine, and thousands have died. The court has ordered rice relief to be issued in large quantities. A report reached the foreign envoys that native Christians, suffering from the famine, were to be discriminated against and to be punished if they even begged for food. Mr. Conger, Sir Ernest M. Satow and M. Pichon, the United States, British and French ministers, protested to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang against such discrimination, and the court issued an edict, dated Saturday, ordering all relief officials and Chinese soldiers to treat Christians exactly the same as others throughout the empire under penalty of decapitation.

The foreign envoys considered this a most important decree if it is carried out.

Pekin, Jan. 28.—A committee of missionaries waited upon the foreign envoys to lay before them the gist of resolutions adopted at a recent meeting of missionaries.

The resolutions will be considered at the next meeting of the ministers, when they will be brought forward and explained by Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British minister.

SOME POINTS OF THE SCALE.

What Miners Are Likely to Demand—Colonel Denied "Mother" Jones' Assertion.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—In secret session Saturday the United Mine Workers of America discussed a report of the scale committee, which makes the following recommendations to the delegates:

1.—That we demand an advance of 10 cents per ton on a straight run of a mine basis.

2.—That we demand an advance of 20 per cent on all inside day labor.

3.—That drivers work but eight hours, from barn to barn.

4.—That all narrow work be paid for at entry prices.

5.—That we demand a flat differential of 7 cents between the pick and machine mining.

6.—That 1 cent be paid for smithing in pick mines and nothing in machine mines.

7.—That Pittsburg prices and conditions be demanded in the Irwin, Pa., field.

8.—That the check-off be demanded for all checkweighmen, levies, dues and assessments.

9.—That all slate over 12 inches be paid for at 5 cents per running yard.

10.—That the mule be employed on all work where the cars cannot be easily pushed to the face of the coal by hand.

This list conforms pretty closely to the scale suggested by the Pittsburg and Ohio conventions within the past month.

President Patrick Dolan, of the Pittsburg district, Friday took some pretty strong exceptions to remarks made by "Mother" Mary Jones, regarding the strike of 1897 in the Pittsburg district. Mother Jones told a sympathetic story of how Eugene V. Debs was alleged to have toured the Pittsburg district unpaid and almost penniless in behalf of the striking miners.

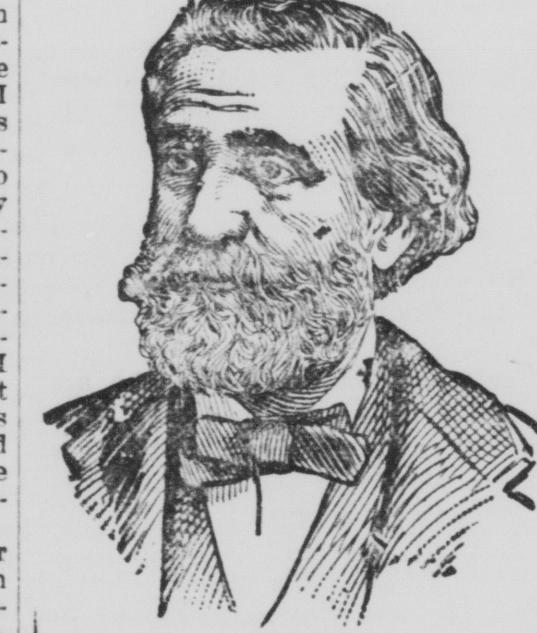

Dolan declared that he had himself paid Debs for his work out of money donated to the then starving miners of the Pittsburg district. "Besides," said Dolan, "we don't want any socialist features injected into this convention."

VERY MODEST, VERDI'S WISH

Great Composer's Desire For a Simple Funeral, Expressed In His Will.

Milan, Jan. 28.—Although preceded by a struggle for life that lasted about two days, the death of Verdi, the composer, was peaceful. He did not regain consciousness. When he passed away he was surrounded by relatives and intimate friends.

The announcement of his death caused great emotion. Theaters, pleasure resorts and many stores were closed, and nearly all the prominent residences were draped.

The city authorities published a eulogy, which was posted throughout Milan. King Victor sent to the family a message of condolence on behalf of himself and state.

In his will he expressed a desire for a very modest funeral.

CRAZY SNAKE CAPTURED.

Daring Act of Two Men, Who Delivered Indian Into Care of Soldiers.

Henrietta, I. T., Jan. 28.—Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson and Bunnie McIntosh, of Eufaula, two men noted for their bravery and daring in hazardous expeditions against outlaws, made a dash upon the encampment of Snake Indians near Eufaula Sunday and captured Chitto Harjo, Crazy Snake. After an exciting escape from the hostile Creek camp they managed to land their prisoner at this place last evening, and he is now held captive under a strong guard of soldiers under the command of Lieutenant Dixon.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Indian Commissioner Jones received the following dispatch, dated Jan. 26, from Agent Shoenfelt, at Muskogee, I. T., regarding the Indian troubles:

"Marshal Bennett will leave tomorrow with force of deputies and Indian police. Will meet troops at Henrietta. Late dispatches indicate uprising in Choctaw Nation spreading. Disaffected Indians have sworn in 430 light horsemen and are attempting to carry out their laws and threaten to destroy property. Have just ordered a squad of policemen to Bristow to assist the civil authorities in maintaining order and prevent the sale of whisky to the Indians where a large band of Snake Indians are now camped, threatening to burn the town."

In a communication received here from Green McCurtin, formerly chief of the Choctaws, he says the Snake party excitement is exaggerated by schemers."

Mme. Pauline Cassin Caro Dead.

Mme. Pauline Cassin Caro, a well-known woman of letters and widow of M. Elme Caro, the celebrated Savant and member of the French academy, died. She was born in 1834.

By Faith.
The night is dark, and alone I stand.
The way, yet not alone;
The clouds that lower overhead
Across the moon are blown.
I onward go and do not fear,
With footsteps firm and light;
I whisper words of sweetest cheer—
By faith and not by sight.

Oh, how I thank Him that the way,
Though unto me unknown,
He knows! And through the clouds the way
Of light is o'er me thrown.
I simply hold His guiding hand,
And, although dark the night,
I trust—nor care to understand—
For faith surpasses sight.

God's way is always the best way;
His will I now make mine;
His peace doth fill my heart each day
With harmony divine.
I simply trust because I know
God's plans are always right,
And willingly, where'er I go,
He walks by, faith, not sight.

TOUCHING SERMON BY TEMPLE.

The Archbishop of Canterbury Preached to a Big Audience—Roman Catholic and Foreign Churches Held Special Services—Arch-Deacon in London Preached.

London, Jan. 28.—Sunday throughout the kingdom all places of worship held services in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's cathedral there was an unusual scene. Before 9 o'clock in the morning an enormous crowd, wholly attired in black, streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands, unable to obtain admission, stood valiantly waiting on the steps and around listening to the low organ strains and muffled peal. The service began at 10:30. The most Rev. Frederick Temple, primate and archbishop of Canterbury, preached a most touching sermon.

There was a similar scene at Westminster abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations. The large assemblage in the chapel royal at St. James' palace included Princess Frederica of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of titled people, many members of the cabinet and other distinguished persons.

All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French embassy attended the French church, and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian embassy by command of Emperor Nicholas.

Everywhere particular attention was paid to the musical portion of the service. At Lincoln's Inn chapel Brahms' "Requiem Mass" was performed.

The venerable William MacDonald Sinclair, archdeacon of London, and canon of St. Paul's cathedral, preached a commemorative discourse at Canterbury cathedral.

Special sermons were preached in St. George's chapel at Windsor. Cathedrals and churches were draped with mourning at a number of places. Messages from the colonials and from all the principal cities abroad where British subjects reside reported memorial services. Sir Alfred Milner attended the service at the cathedral in Cape Town.

Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, accompanied by the countess, attended an afternoon service Sunday at St. Patrick's cathedral in Dublin.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Lord Roberts and Mr. William St. John Frederick, secretary of state for war, were present at morning prayers in Whippingham church about 11 o'clock today. About an hour later King Edward, Queen Alexandra and all the royal personages now at Osborne, arrived at the church for the memorial service. This was a simple function, the hymns being sung by an unsupervised choir of school children. Sir Walter Parratt, private organist to the late queen and organist to St. George's chapel royal, Windsor, played several funeral excerpts.

The bishop of Winchester, who was the preacher for the occasion, delivered an eloquent panegyric upon Victoria, and declared that Emperor William's action in coming to the deathbed had touched the hearts of the British people and cemented the unity and friendship of the two kindred nations.

At the conclusion of the service all stood during a performance of the "Dead March."

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Sunday morning Emperor William received from the hand of the Duke of Connaught his sword on his appointment as field marshal of the British army, in the presence of the households of King Edward and the dead queen, as well as a number of British and German naval officers. His majesty has expressed great delight at the appointment. He will entertain King Edward and the members of the royal family at tea on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern.

Sunday he celebrated his birthday at Osborne and received congratulations from the members of the German embassy in London.

HONOR QUEEN'S MEMORY.

Services Held in Some of the Churches in New York, Washington and Chicago.

New York, Jan. 28.—Many of the sermons delivered at the various churches in the city Sunday were in memory of the late queen and eulogized of her character. Several churches held regular memorial exercises. The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix devoted the greater part of his sermon to the late queen, and the Rev. Dr. George R. Vandewater, of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, delivered eulogy as a prelude to his morning service. Rev. Charles Eaton, of the Church of the Divine Paternity; Rev. Dr. A. E. Kittredge, of the Madison Avenue Reformed; Rev. Dr. S. P. Cadman, of the Central Metropolitan Temple; Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, of the Fifth Avenue Collegiate; Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie, of the Scotch Presbyterian, and Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, of Calvary Baptist, all devoted their entire sermons to eulogies of the queen.

Dr. MacArthur, in opening his sermon, severely criticised Mayor Van Wyck for refusing to half-mast the flag on the city hall, saying: "New York has been humiliated by the refusal of its mayor to make official recognition of the respect felt by all true citizens and patriotic Americans for the queen."

Washington, Jan. 28.—Queen Victoria's life, reign and death formed the theme in many Washington pulpits Sunday, while in most of the local churches of all denominations fitting reference was made to the demise of the ruler of the British empire.

At Epiphany church an elaborate service was celebrated about 11 o'clock in memoriam. Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, the rector, delivered a sermon on the life and death of the queen. A special musical program was arranged for the service.

Lord Pauncefort, the British ambassador, attended the service accompanied by Lady Pauncefort and the Misses Pauncefort; Mr. Gerard A. Lowther, the first secretary; Mr. H. C. Norman, third secretary, and Mr. Burton-Alexander, honorary attaché of the embassy. Members of the Sons of St. George were conspicuous among the congregation. The service was one of marked solemnity.

At the First Baptist church Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage spoke of the queen's death.

Memorial sermons were preached by Rev. Mackay-Smith at St. John's Protestant Episcopal church and by Rev. Dr. Bristol at the Metropolitan M. E. church.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Memorial services in honor of Queen Victoria were held in 50 different churches in this city Sunday. There was no concert of movement and no pre-arranged program, each service being conducted independently. The life and character of the late queen were highly extolled by all the ministers, the belief being expressed that the sorrow felt, particularly by all English-speaking races, at her death will prove a bond of union hereafter between America and England. A formal memorial service will be held next Sunday in the Auditorium, and it is already certain that many thousands of people will be unable to gain admission, so great has been the demand for tickets.

MEMORIAL TO QUEEN.

Contributions Made During Services in a Chicago Church, For One In That City.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The first contributions toward a fund for a permanent memorial in Chicago to Queen Victoria were made at the services held in the Trinity Episcopal church Sunday. A large sum was realized, which will be held by the treasurer of Trinity church until the character and the form of the memorial is decided upon.

EXPRESSED GREAT GRIEF.

Colonel Larkin, of the Royal Household, First Heard of Queen's Death, Off Sandy Hook.

New York, Jan. 28.—Colonel Cuthbert Larkin, of the royal household, gentleman of the privy chamber, and for about 20 years equerry to the Duke of Connaught, arrived on the American line steamer St. Louis Sunday and expressed great grief at learning of the recent death of Queen Victoria.

"It is an irreparable loss to the nation," said Colonel Larkin. "We first heard the sad news from the pilot at Sandy Hook last night and this morning I received a cablegram announcing her majesty's death."

Colonel Larkin will remain in the United States for a fortnight, visiting friends whose acquaintance he made 10 years ago.

Another Death From Plague.

Hull, England, Jan. 28.—Another death from the plague occurred among the members of the crew of the British steamer Friary, which left Alexandria Dec. 22, via Algiers, Dec. 31, for this port.

MISSIONARIES' WORK.

Wu Endorses Praise of Li Hung Chang.

REPLIES TO A CRITICISM BY HOYT.

The Philadelphia Clergyman in a Recent Sermon, Referred to the Utterances of the Great Statesman and Asked What Reply the Chinese Minister Could Make.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Wu Ting Fang, China's minister plenipotentiary to the United States, delivered a lecture on "Confucius and Mencius" before the Society of Ethical Culture at Horticultural hall. There was a large crowd present. In a talk at the close of his lecture he referred to criticisms raised by Minister Wu's recent utterances in New York city on the subject of Christianity.

At one point Minister Wu quoted an extract from the sermon of the Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of this city, on Sunday, Dec. 16, in which the latter spoke of Li Hung Chang's high tribute to the work of the Christian missionaries in China, and asked what reply the Chinese minister could make. He said in part:

"Dr. Hoyt has done me, though doubtless unwittingly, a gross injustice. Since he wants a reply I have no hesitation in giving him one. I endorse every word that Earl Li has said on the subject of foreign missionaries as cited by the doctor. To prove that I am sincere in what I say I beg to refer the doctor to the address I delivered in December last before the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia on the "Causes of the Unpopularity of Foreigners in China." I suppose the doctor had not read that address, or if he had read it he has forgotten it. In any case, I would not believe that an eminent divine could be capable of purposely misrepresenting us."

"Again, Dr. Hoyt and some other clergymen, from their addresses, seem to think that I charged all missionaries with crying out for vengeance. Let me read the exact words I used. 'Love your enemy' is Christ's command, but at this moment some Christian missionaries are crying out for vengeance and bloodshed.' Note that I used the word 'some.'"

Pekin, Jan. 28.—There has been great distress in the province of Shan Si, owing to the famine, and thousands have died. The court has ordered rice relief to be issued in large quantities. A report reached the foreign envoys that native Christians, suffering from the famine, were to be discriminated against and to be punished if they even begged for food. Mr. Conger, Sir Ernest M. Satow and M. Pichon, the United States, British and French ministers, protested to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang against such discrimination, and the court issued an edict, dated Saturday, ordering all relief officials and Chinese soldiers to treat Christians exactly the same as others throughout the empire under penalty of decapitation.

The foreign envoys considered this a most important decree if it is carried out.

Pekin, Jan. 28.—A committee of missionaries waited upon the foreign envoys to lay before them the gist of resolutions adopted at a recent meeting of missionaries.

The resolutions will be considered at the next meeting of the ministers, when they will be brought forward and explained by Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British minister.

SOME POINTS OF THE SCALE.

What Miners Are Likely to Demand—Does Deny "Mother" Jones' Assertion.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—In secret session Saturday the United Mine Workers of America discussed a report of the scale committee, which makes the following recommendations to the delegates:

1.—That we demand an advance of 10 cents per ton on a straight run of a mine basis.

2.—That we demand an advance of 20 per cent on all inside day labor.

3.—That drivers work but eight hours, from barn to barn.

4.—That all narrow work be paid for at entry prices.

5.—That we demand a flat differential of 7 cents between the pick and machine mining.

6.—That 1 cent be paid for smithing in pick mines and nothing in machine mines.

7.—That Pittsburg prices and conditions be demanded in the Irwin, Pa., field.

8.—That the check-off be demanded for all checkweighmen, levies, dues and assessments.

9.—That all slate over 12 inches be paid for at 5 cents per running yard.

10.—That the mule be employed on all work where the cars cannot be easily pushed to the face of the coal by hand.

This list conforms pretty closely to the scale suggested by the Pittsburg and Ohio conventions within the past month.

President Patrick Dolan, of the Pittsburg district, Friday took some pretty strong exceptions to remarks made by "Mother" Mary Jones, regarding the strike of 1897 in the Pittsburg district. Mother Jones told a sympathetic story of how Eugene V. Debs was alleged to have toured the Pittsburg district unpaid and almost penniless in behalf of the striking miners.

Dolan declared that he had himself paid Debs for his work out of money donated to the then starving miners of the Pittsburg district. "Besides," said Dolan, "we don't want any socialist features injected into this convention."

VERY MODEST, VERDI'S WISH

Great Composer's Desire For a Simple Funeral, Expressed In His Will.

Milan, Jan. 28.—Although preceded by a struggle for life that lasted about two days, the death of Verdi, the composer, was peaceful. He did not say how I thank Him that the way, Though unto me unknown, He leads. And through the clouds the way Of light is o'er me thrown. I simply hold His guiding hand, And, although dark the night, I trust—nor care to understand— For faith surpasses sight.

He could I know each ill that waits Upon my onward road, Ed bow beneath the heavy weights Of sorrow's weary load! His grace suffices every need, And nothing can affright The soul that on his manna feeds And walks by faith, not sight.

God's way is always the best way; His will I now make mine; His peace doth fill my heart each day With harmony divine. I simply trust because I know God's plans are always right, And willingly, where'er I go, He will be with me, faith, not sight.

BIG EXPORT RECORD.

Hitchcock Refers to It in a Report.

GREW OVER 12-FOLD IN CENTURY.

Domestic Exports in 1900 Over 40 Times as Large as in 1800—Agricultural Products Formed About 62 Per Cent of the Exports Last Year.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department, has just issued his annual review of the trade of the United States in agricultural products. His report said in part:

In 1800, a century ago, the total value of the merchandise imported and exported in our trade with foreign countries was considerably less than a quarter of a billion dollars. The value of the goods exchanged during the past fiscal year reached nearly two and a quarter billions, far exceeding all previous records. Since the opening of the century our commerce with the rest of the world has increased more than twelvefold.

Our domestic exports during 1900, with a recorded value of $1,370,763,571, were over forty times as large as in 1800. The total imports for 1900, on the other hand, amounting in value to $849,941,184, were less than ten times as large as in 1800.

Compared with the value of our imports for 1900, that of our domestic exports showed an excess of $520,822,387. Of the merchandise imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year 1900, about 49 per cent consisted of agricultural products. These products had an aggregate value of $420,136,381, exceeding by almost $65,000,000 the record of the year before.

Products of United States agriculture were marketed abroad in the fiscal year 1900 to the value of $844,616,530, forming about 62 per cent of the total domestic exports. With the single exception of 1898 the past year witnessed the largest annual export trade in farm produce on record. The value attained came within $15,000,000 of the phenomenal figures for 1898, and surpassed those for 1899 by more than $50,000,000. A considerable portion of the increase over 1899 was accounted for by the higher price of cotton.

In detail these principal items of our imports make the following showing, the figures given being for 1900, and the comparison of gain or loss being with the fiscal year 1899:

Sugar, 4,013,086,530 pounds, gain, 37,835,961 pounds, and total gain in value of these imports, $5,286,854; hides and skins, 345,935,778 pounds, gain, 78,845,028 pounds, value of gain, $15,947,655; coffee, 787,991,911 pounds, loss, 43,835,152, value loss, $2,807,527; silk, 13,073,718 pounds, gain, 1,823,335 pounds, value gain, $12,850,133; vegetable fibers, chiefly sisal grass, cotton and manila hemp, $34,834,750, gain, $9,021,511; wool, 155,928,455 pounds, gain, 79,192,243 pounds (or over 100 per cent), value gain, $11,938,039; fruits and nuts, $19,263,592, gain, $949,386; tobacco, 19,619,627 pounds, gain, 5,583,798 pounds, value gain, $3,396,970; tea, 84,845,107 pounds, gain, 10,755,208, value gain, $883,029; wines, $7,421,495, gain, $831,289; vegetable oils, $6,320,711, gain, $1,020,047; cocoa, 42,759,240 pounds, gain, 6,320,657 pounds, value gain, $610,728. The value changes were in part caused by an average rise in value during the year of one-tenth of a cent a pound in sugar, 1 cent a pound in hides and skins, one-tenth of a cent a pound in coffee, 58 cents a pound in silk, $25.05 a ton in sisal grass, 1.8 cents a pound in cotton, $51.50 a ton in Manila hemp, 2.2 cents a pound in wool, and a loss of 2.7 cents a pound in tobacco, seven-tenths of a cent a pound in tea and seven-tenths of a cent a pound in cocoa.

Our principal agricultural exports in 1900, as in previous years, were breadstuffs, cotton and meat products, these, with live animals, tobacco, oil cake, vegetable oils, fruits and nuts, dairy products and seeds, comprising over 95 per cent of our total exports of farm products during 1900.

The exports for 1898, amounting in value to $33,897,119, were by far the largest on record. In 1899 the export trade amounted to $273,999,699, this value being in excess of any previously reported, except that just mentioned for 1898 and a record of $299,363,117 attained in 1892. The shipments during 1900 were valued at $262,744,078, or $11,255,621 less than the figures returned for 1899.

The decline in the export value of breadstuffs recorded for 1900 was traceable chiefly to a falling off in the shipments of wheat. Accompany-ng the decline in wheat shipments there was a further market increase in the exports of corn, and for the first time in the history of the trade the total export value of corn exceeded that of wheat.

THE POPE ON SOCIALISM.

He Defines Christian Democracy, Which Is Different From Socialism, In His Encyclical.

Rome, Jan. 28.—The pope's encyclical on socialism was issued. It is dated Jan. 18. The pope commenced with recalling his two previous encyclicals on social questions, "Quod Apostole Numeris" and "Rerum Novarum," and said the sequel of these encyclicals was that the Catholics devoted all their activity to social works, in order to help the working classes.

The pontiff here reviewed all that had been done in this direction, the foundation of labor bureaus, funds established for the benefit of the rural classes and workingmen's associations of all kinds. He considers the appellation "Christian socialism" incorrect, and said Catholics who occupy themselves with social questions were sometimes also called "Christian democrats." But even this qualification was attacked by some people as being ill-sounding. Divergencies having arisen therefrom, the pope ardently desired to eliminate them.

Careful distinction must be drawn between socialism and Christian democracy. The first concerns itself solely with material possessions, always seeking to establish perfect equality and a common holding of goods. Christian democracy, on the contrary, respects the principles of Divine law, and while seeking material amelioration has in view the spiritual welfare of the people.

Christian democracy, moreover, must not be confounded with political democracy, for the first can and ought to subsist as does the church itself, under the most varied political regimes. Christian democracy also ought to respect the laws of legitimate civil authority. The appellation "Christian democracy," therefore, contains nothing which might offend anyone.

These divergencies having now been dispelled, Catholics should continue to devote their cares to social questions and the amelioration of the lot of the working classes. The pope encouraged the zeal and action of those Catholics who consecrate themselves to this eminently useful work.

The encyclical eulogized the giving of alms, which the socialists wrongly regard as insulting to the poor. Alms, on the contrary, serve to tighten the ties of social charity. It matters little whether this action of Catholics in favor of the working classes is called the social action of Catholics or Christian democracy.

The essential point is that Catholics should act together to preserve the community of effort and sentiment. Idle, useless questions ought, therefore, never to be brought up in the press or public assemblies. Catholics must act so as to not engage in disputes.

The pontiff concluded with exhorting Catholics to inspire themselves with these principles and to inculcate them. They must urge the people and workmen to shun everything invested with a seditious or revolutionary character, respect the right of others, be respectful to their masters and observe sobriety and religious practices. Thus will social peace again become flourishing throughout the world.

Monsignor Ingell, private secretary to the pope, said no sovereign's death caused his holiness such profound emotion as that of Queen Victoria. He always had the most affectionate regard for her majesty and she for him. Letters were exchanged between them as recently as last December. The pope regards her death as an almost irreparable loss to Christianity, she having contributed more than any other monarch to the triumph of Christian sentiments and moral virtues. The pope is said to be already engaged on a memorial poem. He is convinced that the death of Queen Victoria is a solemn notice to him to prepare for his own end.

Perosi's new oratorio, "The Annunciation," was sung last week at the Church of the Apostles. It is a very fine work and destined to live. It is the first of a projected series of oratorios illustrating the entire life of Christ. Countess Pecci, a niece of the pope, took the role of the virgin, and achieved a distinct success.

CARRIED DOWN FIRE ESCAPE.

Congressman Dovener and Wife and Others Taken From a Hotel, in Washington, During a Fire.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Fire broke out in a small room on the first floor of the old portion of the building occupied by Willard's hotel, and which adjoins the new structure now in course of construction. The flames were confined to this room, and the halls immediately adjoining, and the property loss will not exceed $5,000. Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, wife, and son; Representative Dovener, of West Virginia, and wife, and Representative Robertson, of Louisiana, and wife, were brought down the fire escapes. Mr. Dovener had been ill with the grip for several weeks and had not been outside the hotel for about nine days. He was helpless and wore scant apparel when rescued. Mr. Edward E. Miller, of East St. Louis, the private secretary to Congressman Rodenberg, of Illinois, who occupied a room on one of the top floors, was aroused by the smoke and went from room to room until almost stifled with smoke, knocking at the doors to arouse the guests. He assisted in bringing the wives of the congressmen from their rooms to the street. Others who were rescued included Mr. Edgar J. Gibson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who occupied a room on the top story; his brother, Mr. William H. Gibson, president of the Lind Warehouse company, of New York, and his wife, and Mr. S. C. Wells, editor of the Philadelphia Press. Mrs. Underwood, widow of Thomas Underwood, of Chicago, was found half asphyxiated on the fourth floor. She was removed to the Ebbitt house and quickly rallied.

Kitchener Confirmed Capture of a British Train—Some of the Engagements He Reported.

London, Jan. 28.—The war office has received from the commander-in-chief in South Africa a dispatch dated Pretoria, Jan. 26, reporting numerous engagements, the following being the most important:

Cunningham was engaged at Middefontein and Kopperfontein yesterday day with Delarey's force. Babington, while moving north from Ventersdorp, threatened the enemy's flank, whereupon the Boers retired west. Cunningham's casualties were 2 officers wounded, 4 men killed and 37 wounded.

"In the engagement at Lichtenburg, Jan. 17, some yeomanry were captured. They have since been released, with the exception of a major and three men. No details are yet at hand.

Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement of five hours while on the march from Wonderfontein to Carolina, where the Boers had lately been concentrating. The enemy were in considerable strength and held the river, but were driven out. Our losses were 1 officer killed and 2 officers and 13 men wounded."

General Kitchener confirmed the report that a British train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid and captured at Slijpklip, near Fourteen Streams, last Friday, but said the Boers retired on the arrival of the armored train sent in pursuit.

IS TOWNE A SENATOR?

Fine Point Raised by Secretary Bennett. Expected to Make a Speech Today.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Post today was expected to say that a fine point had been raised over the right of Mr. Towne to continue to hold his seat in the senate, now that Mr. Clapp has been given a certificate of election by the governor of Minnesota. It said that Mr. Bennett, the secretary of the senate, held that Mr. Towne ceased to draw his salary on Wednesday, Jan. 23, when a certificate of election was given to Mr. Clapp by the governor. Mr. Towne on Friday introduced a resolution favorable to the independence of the Filipinos and was recognized by the chair for that purpose. He gave notice that he would address the senate on it today, and as a result of telegraphic correspondence, Mr. Clapp agreed not to present his credentials and be sworn in until after the delivery of the speech, but Secretary Bennett has raised a question as to whether Mr. Clapp is not now senator.

IS TOWNE A SENATOR?

Fine Point Raised by Secretary Bennett. Expected to Make a Speech Today.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Post today was expected to say that a fine point had been raised over the right of Mr. Towne to continue to hold his seat in the senate, now that Mr. Clapp has been given a certificate of election by the governor of Minnesota. It said that Mr. Bennett, the secretary of the senate, held that Mr. Towne ceased to draw his salary on Wednesday, Jan. 23, when a certificate of election was given to Mr. Clapp by the governor. Mr. Towne on Friday introduced a resolution favorable to the independence of the Filipinos and was recognized by the chair for that purpose. He gave notice that he would address the senate on it today, and as a result of telegraphic correspondence, Mr. Clapp agreed not to present his credentials and be sworn in until after the delivery of the speech, but Secretary Bennett has raised a question as to whether Mr. Clapp is not now senator.

BIG EXPORT RECORD.

Hitchcock Refers to It in a Report.

GREW OVER 12-FOLD IN CENTURY.

Domestic Exports in 1900 Over 40 Times as Large as in 1800—Agricultural Products Formed About 62 Per Cent of the Exports Last Year.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department, has just issued his annual review of the trade of the United States in agricultural products. His report said in part:

In 1800, a century ago, the total value of the merchandise imported and exported in our trade with foreign countries was considerably less than a quarter of a billion dollars. The value of the goods exchanged during the past fiscal year reached nearly two and a quarter billions, far exceeding all previous records. Since the opening of the century our commerce with the rest of the world has increased more than twelvefold.

Our domestic exports during 1900, with a recorded value of $1,370,763,571, were over forty times as large as in 1800. The total imports for 1900, on the other hand, amounting in value to $849,941,184, were less than ten times as large as in 1800.

Compared with the value of our imports for 1900, that of our domestic exports showed an excess of $520,822,387. Of the merchandise imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year 1900, about 49 per cent consisted of agricultural products. These products had an aggregate value of $420,136,381, exceeding by almost $65,000,000 the record of the year before.

Products of United States agriculture were marketed abroad in the fiscal year 1900 to the value of $844,616,530, forming about 62 per cent of the total domestic exports. With the single exception of 1898 the past year witnessed the largest annual export trade in farm produce on record. The value attained came within $15,000,000 of the phenomenal figures for 1898, and surpassed those for 1899 by more than $50,000,000. A considerable portion of the increase over 1899 was accounted for by the higher price of cotton.

In detail these principal items of our imports make the following showing, the figures given being for 1900, and the comparison of gain or loss being with the fiscal year 1899:

Sugar. 4,013,086,530 pounds, gain, 37,835,961 pounds, and total gain in value of these imports, $5,286,854; hides and skins, 345,935,778 pounds, gain, 78,845,028 pounds, value of gain, $15,947,655; coffee, 787,991,911 pounds, loss, 43,835,152, value loss, $2,807,527; silk, 13,073,718 pounds, gain, 1,823,335 pounds, value gain, $12,850,133; vegetable fibers, chiefly sisal grass, cotton and manila hemp, $34,834,750, gain, $9,021,511; wool, 155,928,455 pounds, gain, 79,192,246 pounds (or over 100 per cent), value gain, $11,938,039; fruits and nuts, $19,263,592, gain, $949,386; tobacco, 19,619,627 pounds, gain, 5,583,798 pounds, value gain, $3,396,970; tea, 84,845,107 pounds, gain, 10,755,208, value gain, $883,029; wines, $7,421,495, gain, $831,289; vegetable oils, $6,320,711, gain, $1,020,047; cocoa, 42,759,240 pounds, gain, 6,320,657 pounds, value gain, $610,728. The value changes were in part caused by an average rise in value during the year of one-tenth of a cent a pound in sugar, 1 cent a pound in hides and skins, one-tenth of a cent a pound in coffee, 58 cents a pound in silk, $25.05 a ton in sisal grass, 1.8 cents a pound in cotton, $51.50 a ton in Manila hemp, 2.2 cents a pound in wool, and a loss of 2.7 cents a pound in tobacco, seven-tenths of a cent a pound in tea and seven-tenths of a cent a pound in cocoa.

Our principal agricultural exports in 1900, as in previous years, were breadstuffs, cotton and meat products, these, with live animals, tobacco, oil cake, vegetable oils, fruits and nuts, dairy products and seeds, comprising over 95 per cent of our total exports of farm products during 1900.

The exports for 1898, amounting in value to $333,897,119, were by far the largest on record. In 1899 the export trade amounted to $273,999,699, this value being in excess of any previously reported, except that just mentioned for 1898 and a record of $299,363,117 attained in 1892. The shipments during 1900 were valued at $262,744,078, or $11,255,621 less than the figures returned for 1899.

The decline in the export value of breadstuffs recorded for 1900 was traceable chiefly to a falling off in the shipments of wheat. Accompany-ng the decline in wheat shipments there was a further market increase in the exports of corn, and for the first time in the history of the trade the total export value of corn exceeded that of wheat.

THE POPE ON SOCIALISM.

He Defines Christian Democracy, Which Is Different from Socialism, in His Encyclical.

Rome, Jan. 28.—The pope's encyclical on socialism was issued. It is dated Jan. 18. The pope commenced with recalling his two previous encyclicals on social questions, "Quod Apostole Numeris" and "Rerum Novarum," and said the sequel of these encyclicals was that the Catholics devoted all their activity to social works, in order to help the working classes.

The pontiff here reviewed all that had been done in this direction, the foundation of labor bureaus, funds established for the benefit of the rural classes and workingmen's associations of all kinds. He considers the appellation "Christian socialism" incorrect, and said Catholics who occupy themselves with social questions were sometimes also called "Christian democrats." But even this qualification was attacked by some people as being ill-sounding. Divergencies having arisen therefrom, the pope ardently desired to eliminate them.

Careful distinction must be drawn between socialism and Christian democracy. The first concerns itself solely with material possessions, always seeking to establish perfect equality and a common holding of goods. Christian democracy, on the contrary, respects the principles of Divine law, and while seeking material amelioration has in view the spiritual welfare of the people.

Christian democracy, moreover, must not be confounded with political democracy, for the first can and ought to subsist as does the church itself, under the most varied political regimes. Christian democracy also ought to respect the laws of legitimate civil authority. The appellation "Christian democracy," therefore, contains nothing which might offend anyone.

These divergencies having now been dispelled, Catholics should continue to devote their cares to social questions and the amelioration of the lot of the working classes. The pope encouraged the zeal and action of those Catholics who consecrate themselves to this eminently useful work.

The encyclical eulogized the giving of alms, which the socialists wrongfully regard as insulting to the poor. Alms, on the contrary, serve to tighten the ties of social charity. It matters little whether this action of Catholics in favor of the working classes is called the social action of Catholics or Christian democracy.

The essential point is that Catholics should act together to preserve the community of effort and sentiment. Idle, useless questions ought, therefore, never to be brought up in the press or public assemblies. Catholics must act so as to not engage in disputes.

The pontiff concluded with exhorting Catholics to inspire themselves with these principles and to inculcate them. They must urge the people and workmen to shun everything invested with a seditious or revolutionary character, respect the right of others, be respectful to their masters and observe sobriety and religious practices. Thus will social peace again become flourishing throughout the world.

Monsignor Ingeli, private secretary to the pope, said no sovereign's death caused his holiness such profound emotion as that of Queen Victoria. He always had the most affectionate regard for her majesty and she for him. Letters were exchanged between them as recently as last December. The pope regards her death as an almost irreparable loss to Christianity, she having contributed more than any other monarch to the triumph of Christian sentiments and moral virtues. The pope is said to be already engaged on a memorial poem. He is convinced that the death of Queen Victoria is a solemn notice for him to prepare for his own end.

Perosi's new oratorio, "The Annunciation," was sung last week at the Church of the Apostles. It is a very fine work and destined to live. It is the first of a projected series of oratories illustrating the entire life of Christ. Countess Pecl, a niece of the pope, took the role of the virgin, and achieved a distinct success.

STILL ANXIOUS.

"Have you fastened the windows, dear?" she asked, as they were about to retire for the night.

CARRIED DOWN FIRE ESCAPE

Congressman Dovener and Wife and Others Taken From a Hotel, in Washington, During a Fire.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Fire broke out in a small room on the first floor of the old portion of the building occupied by Villard's hotel, and which adjoins the new structure now in course of construction. The flames were confined to this room, and the halls immediately adjoining, and the property loss will not exceed $5,000. Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, wife, and son; Representative Dovener, of West Virginia, and wife, and Representative Robertson, of Louisiana, and wife were brought down the fire escapes. Mr. Dovener had been ill with the grip for several weeks and had not been outside the hotel for about nine days. He was batless and wore scant apparel when rescued. Mr. Edward E. Miller, of East St. Louis, the private secretary to Congressman Rodenberg, of Illinois, who occupied a room on one of the top floors, was aroused by the smoke and went from room to room until almost stifled with smoke, knocking at the doors to arouse the guests. He assisted in bringing the wives of the congressmen from their rooms to the street. Others who were rescued included Mr. Edgar J. Gibson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who occupied a room on the top story; his brother, Mr. William H. Gibson, president of the Lind Warehouse company, of New York, and his wife, and Mr. S. C. Wells, editor of the Philadelphia Press. Mrs. Underwood, widow of Thomas Underwood, of Chicago, was found half asphyxiated on the fourth floor. She was removed to the Ebbitt house and quickly rallied.

SAID BOERS RETIRED.

Kitchener Confirmed Capture of a British Train—Some of the Engagements He Reported.

London, Jan. 28.—The war office has received from the commander-in-chief in South Africa a dispatch dated Pretoria, Jan. 26, reporting numerous engagements, the following being the most important:

"Cunningham was engaged at Midfontein and Koppfontein yesterday with Delarey's force. Babington, while moving north from Ventersdorp, threatened the enemy's flank, whereupon the Boers retired west. Cunningham's casualties were 2 officers wounded, 4 men killed and 37 wounded.

"In the engagement at Lichtenburg, Jan. 17, some yeomanry were captured. They have since been released, with the exception of a major and three men. No details are yet at hand.

"Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement of five hours while on the march from Wonderfontein to Carolina, where the Boers had lately been concentrating. The enemy were in considerable strength and held the river, but were driven out. Our losses were 1 officer killed and 2 officers and 13 men wounded."

General Kitchener confirmed the report that a British train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid and captured at Slipkloof, near Fourteen Streams, last Friday, but said the Boers retired on the arrival of the armored train sent in pursuit.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Post today was expected to say that a fine point had been raised over the right of Mr. Towne to continue to hold his seat in the senate, now that Mr. Clapp has been given a certificate of election by the governor of Minnesota. It said that Mr. Bennett, the secretary of the senate, held that Mr. Towne ceased to draw his salary on Wednesday, Jan. 23, when a certificate of election was given to Mr. Clapp by the governor. TWO CENTS

Services Held at St. Stephen's Church Yesterday Afternoon Were Very Impressive.

THE CHURCH WAS PACKED

Hundreds of People Were Unable to Get In the Spacious New Edifice.

THE MUSIC WAS BEAUTIFUL

One of the most impressive and interesting services ever held in the city was that given at St. Stephen's church yesterday afternoon in memory of the late Queen Victoria.

Long before the time for opening the services had arrived the church was packed to the doors and many hundreds of people had to be turned away, as the seating capacity of the handsome new edifice had been entirely taken up.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the Sons and Daughters of St. George, who had met at their hall, formed in solemn procession and to the beautiful strains of the dead march, played by Haines' band, marched to the church. The Stars and Stripes and Union Jack, the flags of the two greatest nations, were carried at the head of the procession draped in mourning. A large number of people watched the procession, which made an impressive sight.

Almost 200 persons were in line, and it did the hearts of the English residents of this city good to witness the sight, while the American residents felt the same way, as all knew that the service was in memory of one that was loved and respected by all.

When the church was reached the procession filed to their seats, while the choir rendered the beautiful selection, "For All the Saints from Their Labors Rest."

The memorial services held were very impressive, while the music rendered by the vested choir is seldom if ever equalled in the city. They sang during the service "On the Resurrection Morn," "There is a Blessed Home," together with a special anthem, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives." The music was indeed a feature of the services.

The memorial address was delivered by Rev. Edwin Weary, and was a splendid effort. His eulogy of the late queen was eloquent.

The many hundreds of people who could not get in the church were sorely disappointed.

The floral offerings were unusually profuse and handsome.

The solicitors of the hospital association have been active recently, and are meeting with good success wherever they have worked.

The money for another note is now in the hands of the association and will be paid at once. The amount is not due until March 1, but will be turned over without delay. This note is for $500, and leaves but $1,000 to raise in order to leave the ground free from encumbrance. One hundred dollars of this last $1,000 has already been pledged, and it is not thought any difficulty will be met in raising the amount.

Lisbon, Jan. 28.—(Special)—The January term of common pleas court was formally opened before noon today and a number of entries of minor importance made.

Debora Tullis, of East Liverpool, was in court with a number of witnesses to prosecute her divorce action filed in November against John Tullis. Her divorce was granted and she was given the custody of her three minor children. The couple were married in East Liverpool on August 7, 1884, and Tullis is charged with habitual drunkenness for over three years. The husband is in the work house.

WELLSVILLE SUIT.

FRANK GEISSE ASKS THAT A RECEIVER BE APPOINTED

For the Business of the Novelty Machine Works of That Village.

Lisbon, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Frank Geisse and William Wooster, late business partners in Wellsville under the firm name of the Novelty Machine works, are parties to a suit which was filed in court today by Geisse.

The firm, which was organized for the purpose of carrying on the plumbing business, was organized in September, 1899, continuing until November last, when by mutual consent the partnership was dissolved. Geisse now claims that there were numerous accounts due the firm when they quit business, and Wooster has been devoting his time to collecting the same and converting them to his own use. He says that Wooster is insolvent and has refused to account to him for any monies collected. Judge Hole is asked to appoint a receiver.

A bill of exceptions was filed this morning in the case of Charles G. Lacey and Charles E. Burk vs. L. H. Kirkbride, of Salem, appealing the same to circuit court. The case was first appealed here by Kirkbride from Squire Cobourn's court, and when tried judgment was rendered for $245 11 in favor of the plaintiff.

Isaac Cox, of Marshall county, W. Va., has filed an action in partition in court asking that his interests in an 87-acre farm in Elkrum township to set off to him. Cox is an heir of the late Elizabeth Cox and as such claims to be entitled to one-fourteenth interest in the farm and filed his action against the other heirs.

About 100 witnesses have already been subpoenaed to testify, and unless some unforeseen event transpires in the meantime the body will report by Wednesday evening.

The list of jurors as originally drawn reported for duty with the exception of Enoch Elden, of East Liverpool; Leward Bright, of Washington township, and Silas Borton, of Knox township.

Their places were filled by John Fraser, of Lisbon; B. F. Roose, of Homeworth, and Robert Bursner, of East Liverpool. S. D. Longshore, of Lisbon, was appointed foreman.

HOSKINS CUT BUTLER NAILER

Beth Men Are Colored and Were Engaged In Playing Cards In a Shanty

NEAR KOUNTZ'S CORNER

When the Police Went After Hoskins They Succeeded In Capturing

A LARGE BUNCH OF GAMBLERS

Yesterday at a small shanty between here and Wellsville, Wilson Hoskins assaulted Butler Nailer and shoved him through a window. As a result Nailer had his head badly cut and a physician took eight stitches in the cut before it was as good as ever.

The Wellsville officials telephoned to the Liverpool officers at once, and Chief Thompson sent out his officers, but Hoskins fell into the hands of Officer Madden, of Wellsville.

The Liverpool officer who went to the shanty made a good haul, however. He found a gambling game in full process and placed H. A. Kountz, Peter Lyons, J. C. Curran and Henry Smith under arrest.

Kountz this morning pleaded guilty to running the place and was fined $50 and costs, while the balance of the outfit will be given hearings at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The actions were all brought under the state law.

SHERIFF ALLISON ON UNEASY STREET

▲ Bill to Be Introduced In the West Virginia Legislature Will Knock Out

PROFITS OF HIS OFFICE

Proposed Bill Establishes the Office of County Treasurer Which Duties Are

NOW PERFORMED BY SHERIFFS

There promises to be a battle royal in the West Virginia legislature before the present session is ended, and it because there is a disposition on the part of the lawmakers to create the office of treasurer in the various counties of the state.

At present the duties of the sheriff includes the collection of taxes and other work performed by treasurers of counties, and the fact that about nineteen-tenths of the income of a sheriff is derived from the fees and salary as treasurer, has caused the several sheriffs to be up in arms against the proposed legislation.

Were the offices separated there would be no inducement whatever for a good man to seek the berth of sheriff, and the result of this would be that an unreliable and untrustworthy man would occupy the place in almost every instance. This would be a very bad state of affairs, since, besides placing the affairs of one of the most important offices in the hands of incompetent men, the counties would be constantly involved in some sort of trouble in consequence of that unreliability. Under the proposed plan the constable of a district would be a more lucrative position than that of sheriff with less than one-half the responsibility.

Several meetings have been held by the various sheriffs looking to the formation of plans to fight the proposed change, and it is safe to say it will not go through without a battle. Sheriff W. W. Irwin, of Ohio county, is the main spirit in the opposition, and it now looks as though it would be extremely formidable.

However, it is quite likely that should the plan as formed by a few members of the legislature be adopted the various sheriffs will be appointed treasurer until the regular election.

CHINESE WAR.

The Consequences Are Being Seriously Felt in the Silk and Tea Trade.

Consul Hughes.

The consequences of the disturbances in China are being seriously felt in the silk and tea trade. The Chinese reduction of silk in 1900 is estimated at 4,500,000 kilograms (9,920,700 bushels). While this is by no means a bad result in itself, yet the uncertain conditions of business make it appear rather risky to import Chinese goods. This accounts for the great demand at Lyons this year for Syrian silk goods. Unfortunate, the present silk crop in Turkey is not very good, so that a rise of prices is probable.

The tea trade is in a similar position. The large houses that import are well provided, but there is a scarcity of freight steamers to load the cargoes. Insurance companies do not like to run risks and refuse to insure Chinese goods, while banks have ceased to advance money on this kind of merchandise.

ARIZONA.

The Play to be Presented Here by the Elks is One of the Finest.

"Arizona" will be the next big New York success to be seen here. This is the play which went to Chicago for four weeks and stayed fourteen, besides scoring one of the greatest dramatic successes in New York in a generation. In going to the alkali plains of Arizona for his theme, Mr. Thomas has found something new for the stage. He has, through the use of diversified characters and the help of good scenic artists, given this play as distinct a local color as was observed and admired in "Alabama." He has placed in dramatic or romantic relations United States soldiers, hardy cowboys, impetuous Mexicans and women more or less affected by these unnatural surroundings, and has made these relations, and the conduct of the various characters under them, as strong and as natural as if the whole personnel belonged to some metropolitan "set," and this too without destroying one of the marks of character differentiation. Indeed, the distinctness of types is one of the greatest merits of the play.

CANONSBURG POTTER

Has Been Leased to W. S. George And Will be Put in Operation at Once.

The directors of the Canonsburg China company held a meeting last week and the lease of the plant to W. S. George was duly executed. The plant will be put in operation at once, although it will necessarily be some time yet before a full force of hands can be put to work. But operations will be begun and the force increased as fast as may be.

The plant is pronounced by experienced pottery men to be one of the finest and most complete to be found anywhere, and Mr. George, who has leased and will run it, is one of the most successful pottery men in the country; so that we have every reason to believe that the town is about to have another successful industry.

SUPREME COURT.

REVERSES A FORMER JUDGMENT AND DECLARES

The Law Valid Which Entitles the Telephone Companies to Appeal to Probate Court.

The supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of Muskingum county in the case of the city of Zanesville vs. the Zanesville Telephone and Telegraph company, thereby reversing its own judgment of a few weeks ago.

Chief Justice Shauck and Judge Marshall dissent from the decision, as announced yesterday after rehearing. The case will be reported.

The court, in its former decision, reversing the judgment of the circuit court, held unconstitutional the law authorizing telephone companies to apply to the probate court to fix conditions under which they may use the streets of a city, in case they cannot reach an agreement with the municipal authorities. Whatever the consequences may be to the vast interests at stake, it seems evident that the decision may open the way for a flood of laws conferring legislative or administrative functions upon the judicial department of the government.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Yes, He is a Dandy Workman, But You Can Hardly Ever Catch Him Sober."

And this was the remark made to a well known jeweler of East Liverpool on Saturday afternoon last, in the presence of the writer, the man making the remark referring to a skilled workman in watch repairing and in the jewelry line. It is the same old, old story of the awful power for evil concentrated in the alcohol devil and in the accursed saloon.

A second story of the same kind came to this office on Saturday night, when a pottery worker, a sober and reliable and skilled workman, related an incident connected with a skilled fellow workman, as follows:

"Yes, the man I have reference to is very skillful. He is a married man, and a good investment for his employer, as he is faithful and true at his work when free from the curse of alcohol. The other day, when needed most, he was almost worthless, in consequence of a jubilee in which he had taken part the night before; and, as he was completely unnerved, he was no better than a loafer, and was a complete imposition on the man who was giving him good wages. Finally he went to an adjoining room and dropped off into a drunken slumber. One of the girls had occasion to pass his sleeping place, and she desired to know of me what was the matter with him. When I informed her, she expressed great surprise, as she stated that she knew he was a married man, with a nice wife and family, and further knew that the place he had been visiting was the abode of scarlet women. I told her that being married to a good woman did not necessarily prevent him from associating with such characters, as my experience has been that married men who are drinkers and visitors of saloons are the very worst class of men we have."

God speed the day when the saloon shall no longer exist in our land.

INCREASED BUSINESS.

MARKET IS DAILY WITNESSING AN INCREASED VOLUME.

Holiday Quiet Has Passed Away And the Potteries Are Receiving Large Orders.

China, Glass and Lamps.

The market is daily witnessing an increased volume of business. The holiday quiet is passing away and both manufacturers and jobbers find an improved demand setting in from their customers. The orders being received at the potteries are sometimes for considerable quantities, indicating a disposition on the part of the trade to purchase liberally, while at the same time there is an entire absence of the speculative element.

Traveling salesmen are actively at work and are sending in fair orders calling for assortments covering practically the entire line. While a good many western dealers have already been in the market, it is probable that many more have postponed their visits to the eastern centers of manufacture and distribution until the annual meeting of the National Association of Wholesalers in Crockery and Glassware, which opens in New York on February 1. Those from distant places who contemplate attending this meeting want to do so and make their spring selections of goods at the same time, so as to avoid the expense and loss of time incident to two trips. This has held several back who will be in evidence in the next few weeks.

The Potteries are working to full capacity, as a rule, and will be in good shape to supply the wants of their customers when the time for heavy shipments arrives.

OLDEST AND YOUNGEST

Messengers of the Electoral College Met Recently in President Frye's Room.

Washington Post.

The oldest and youngest messengers of the electoral college met recently in the room of President Pro Tem Frye. The former was John R. Bennett, of Michigan, who is quite spry and vigorous, despite his 83 years of age, and the young man was Robert L. Offutt, of Kentucky, who is 34 years old.

In politics the two men were as far apart as in their ages. Mr. Bennett has been a Republican ever since the party was organized. There is a tradition in Michigan that the first Republican speech in the United States was delivered in a grove at Jackson, in that state, so that "the oaks of Jackson" have local fame as the cradle of the party.

Mr. Bennett listened to the speech and became, henceforth, a life-long convert. Mr. Offutt, on the other hand, is a Bourbon from Bourbonville. He hates a Republican like the devil hates holy water.

Origin of Words Papa and Mamma.

Did you ever wonder how the words "papa" and "mamma" came to be used instead of "father" and "mother"? It seems so easy and natural for children to say them nowadays, that the idea that there was a time when there was no such words seems a hard one to receive.

But it is true that once, long ago, children said "father" and "mother," with no pet names to use instead. The names "papa" and "mamma" came first into use in Italy, and the earliest trace that can be found of them is in a book printed in the year 1579. It was an Italian story by a writer named Lyl, and the book was called Euphues. It was filled with curious and funny words which were then in use in that country.

Notice.

PRESIDENT.

KIND WORDS.

A Contemporary Speaks Generous Words in Favor of the News Review.

The Columbiana Independent, a neat and spicy little paper, published at Columbiana, Ohio, speaks good words in favor of the News Review. Thanks, Messrs. Edgerton & Morlan; may your shadows never grow less, and may your ably conducted little journal find general favor with the masses. We reproduce the article spoken of, as follows:

"Suit has been entered in the common pleas court against the East Liverpool News Review for $5,000 damages on account of alleged libelous matter that has been published in that paper. It is said that a newspaper is never so prosperous and influential as when it has a suit for libel on its hands. The News Review is about the cleanest daily paper that is published in this section of the state, and its owners are in no danger of losing the suit if it is pushed, which we very much doubt."

A CRITICISM.

The Manner in Which a Youngstown Paper Goes After a Theatrical Performance.

The Youngstown Telegram in criticizing a theatrical production which recently appeared in that city says:

"There wasn't enough talent in the entire crowd to spring a new joke, and the one redeeming feature of the inane and idiotic nonsense that passed for entertainment was the Russian dancers, who were clever and had no more business to be with the crowd than a fan peddler in Ireland. Outside this one act there was no excuse to be offered why any of the alleged artists should be allowed to cause suffering to patrons of the theater. There were jokes with cobwebs and songs which the manner of their singing would cause a strike in a boiler shop working double turn."

Choir Picture.

The current number of the Living Church, published at Chicago, contains a large half-tone picture of the choirs of St. Stephen's church, East Liverpool, and St. Paul's, Steubenville; taken in front of the former church on the day of dedication on December 26. The title of the picture mistakenly classes the whole as St. Stephen's choir.

IF WOMEN WOULD HELP.

Mrs. Nation Said She Would Attack Topeka Saloons—Spoke In Churches.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation addressed a large audience at the United Brethren and First Christian churches in this city last night. She simply told the story of her work and how she had come to start on the crusade.

"It is a pleasure," she said, "to speak here. Usually I am prevented from talking by the proprietors of these murderous whisky shops. This issue in Kansas is 'Down with the whisky trust.' The best rocks to throw are votes. We women cannot vote, but you men with your ballots and we women with our hatchets will clean up the awful traffic."

Mrs. Nation will probably address the meeting of the Kansas W. C. T. U. organization, which will be held here today. An attempt is also being made to have her speak to the legislature on the subject of temperance. Mrs. Nation said she would not attempt to break up the joints in Topeka single handed, but if the women of the town would aid her she would start out "joint smashing" today.

THE FIRST GERMAN PAPER.

Ben Franklin In 1732 Printed the First Zeitung In America.

The first newspaper printed in the German language in America was the Philadelphische Zeitung, published by Benjamin Franklin in the year 1732. The Pennsylvania Gazette for June 8-15, 1732, contains the following announcement:

"The Gazette will come out on Monday next and continue to be published on Mondays.

"And on the Saturday following will be published Philadelphische Zeitung, or Newspaper in High Dutch, which will continue to be published on Saturdays once a fortnight, ready to be delivered at Ten o'Clock, to Country Subscribers. Advertisements are taken in by the Printer hereof, or by Mr. Louis Timothee, Language Master, who translates them."

In undertaking this new enterprise Franklin expected to secure a liberal support from the German population of the province, for whom he had been doing considerable printing, but in this he was disappointed, and the publication of the Zeitung was discontinued after a few numbers had been issued.

The Zeitung was a small sheet of four pages, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 9 inches, the text printed in double columns with Roman type, and at the bottom of the fourth page bore the imprint: "Philadelphia: Gedruckt bey B. Franklin in der March-strasse, wo diese Zeitungen vor 5 Shillings des Jahrs zu bekommen, und Advertisements zu bestellen sind." The first number was issued June 10, 1732, and the second "Sonnabend den 24. Juni, 1732." The publication of the Zeitung, therefore, antedates by seven years the Hoch-Deutsch Pennsylvania-Geschicht-Schreiber, published by Christopher Saur.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Come to Jesus.
O soul, alone and weary,
With burdens hard oppressed,
Come lean thy fainting heart tonight
Upon the Saviour's breast.

A refuge safe and quiet
In Jesus thou shalt find;
The calmness of his changeless love
Will heal thy troubled mind.

O soul, grown sick of sinning,
Bowed low with shame and grief,
Christ waiteth to receive thee now;
His mercy brings relief.

O heart, oppressed and weary,
Thy rest thou'll never find
Until thou find it in the arms
So strong and true and kind.

Couldn't See the Humor.

"I can't for the life of me see," remarked an Englishman during the course of conversation with Nat Goodwin once, "what people mean by American humor. To me all humor is alike, whether it be of American or English origin. Perhaps you can explain to me just what distinguishes American humor from any other sort?"

"Well," replied Mr. Goodwin, "I think the American type of humor is rather more subtle. It doesn't always fully impress itself upon you at once. The more you think about it the funnier it seems. I can perhaps best illustrate my meaning with a little story.

"A man was walking along the street one day when he passed another man who was carrying a letter in his hand.

"Pardon me," said the man with the letter. "Do you know where the post office is?"

"Yes," said the other man and passed on. On second thought he decided that he had been rude and went back to where the man with the letter was still standing.

"Do you wish to know where the post office is?" he asked.

"No," said the other man.

The Englishman's gaze was vacant. "Just turn it over in your mind for a few minutes and tell me what you think of it," said Mr. Goodwin.

Ten minutes later the Englishman clutched at Mr. Goodwin's elbow. "You won't be offended, will you, old chap?" he murmured. "But, really, I think they were both blawsted rude!"—Saturday Evening Post.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 1901.

UNDER THE STATE LAW

There will be some sensational work done in this city by and through state officials in the near future, if a halt is not called on some very bad work now going on. Men may think that they have a splendid pull, and will not discover their error until their establishments are pulled, and enjoy the diluted pleasure of paying the piper or fiddler. We await developments.

A LOAVER.

The fellow who loafers and plays off on his employer is not gifted with intellect or consumed with smartness. Sooner or later punishment overtakes him, and an honest workman steps into his place. And then still hotter punishment comes to the loafer, as his late employer will not commend him to any other employer. The loafer is never a true unionist. He cannot be. It is an impossibility in the very nature of the case.

OUR JOB DEPARTMENT.

At this season of the year we do not expect a rush of job work. This precedent does not hold good this season. We are crowded with orders and are compelled to work over time. We can only account for this in the fact that East Liverpool citizens, as a rule, are great lovers of fair play, and they demonstrate this fact by sending us their work, as they reason from the standpoint that actions speak louder than words.

RUFFIANISM.

Three ladies were coming home last evening at an early hour from Wellsville. One of the ladies is the wife of one of our most prominent and best respected business men of East Liverpool, and the other two are lady visitors of her's from Philadelphia. There were several young blackguards on board the car, and they made use of the most offensive remarks, directed against the ladies in question. The ladies were naturally very indignant, but their good sense and refinement prevented them from making any answer to the toughs, whom they treated with silent contempt. But they were determined that they would not remain in such company a moment longer than actually necessary, and halted the car for the purpose of alighting therefrom. The conductor knew where the ladies desired to go, and prevailed upon them remaining upon the car until they reached their destination. The ladies do not know whether or not the conductor heard the remarks made by the young toughs. And now we call upon Manager Healy and our city officials to take immediate measures to stop this class of ruffianism. Complaints have been numerous of late respecting the conduct of toughs, male and female, who travel between this city and Wellsville at a late hour; but this has been the first case reported when such outrageous conduct has been indulged in on our street cars at such an early hour in the evening. The conductors and motormen on the cars should be empowered to act as officers of the law, with authority to make arrests in case of necessity, and in other cases to take the names of offenders and report them to headquarters, when the law will inflict such punishment as will deter such blackguards from future bad work, at least when on the street cars.

MERCY DEMANDS IT.

Justice calls for it in stentorian and prolonged tones. And then mercy chimes in and pleads for the same desired consummation. And then common humanity asserts that we should have it. And then common sense wonders why it has not been in full play in our midst for so these many years. And then city pride cries out that she has been humbled by the failure to have it materialize. What? Of course we have reference to that contemplated city hospital which has been builded so often in vivid imaginations. Good and true women have battled for it and begged for it. Our most skilled and most prominent physicians have pronounced it a necessity. Humanitarians have cried out that it ought to be erected. And still it has failed to materialize. Why? Simply because our monied men have failed to respond to the call for charity and benevolence along this particular line of duty and interest. Monroe Patterson offers to pay into the treasury the sum of $50.00 for each kiln erected at his pottery; this aside from his individual contribution. Mr. Patterson believes that if this plan shall be followed up by the other pottery manufacturers, the hospital fund will be made a success and that the building will be erected. Push the good work along. Talk it up to your neighbor. Don't let the matter die. We ought to have a hospital in East Liverpool, and we ought to commence its erection without delay. Agitate the matter. We have a grandly charitable people in this city. All that is necessary to do is to get them fully awake to the fact that humanity and mercy and love demand that a hospital shall be builded and maintained in East Liverpool. And, by the way, tell the pastors of your churches to notify their membership that we want and must have a hospital at this point; and tell the aforesaid pastors to make note that faith and works should be combined in their fullness in this much needed humanity. Turn on the power.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Evangelistic Services Have Been Wonderfully Interesting
Of Late.

Great audiences have been in attendance. Saturday night was one of special interest, the mercy seat being crowded and many professing conversion and some sanctification.

Sabbath school yesterday will long be remembered by those who took part therein. Between fifty and sixty children dedicated their lives to the service of the Master, and a number of adults were added to the church. The evangelist states that the incident was one of universal delight and pleasure to him.

Sunday morning services were greeted by a large audience, and a number of persons joined the church.

The afternoon meeting lasted for fully three hours, and the mercy seat was crowded with communicants.

There was an immense audience present at night. The evangelist took as his subject the dying thieves on the cross, speaking of the one as accepting and the other as rejecting Christ. He stated that the world at large has been taught to look at the thief who was saved at the last moment of his life on this earth; but the teachers fail to impart the knowledge of the fact that there was also a thief who failed to ask for the mercy of the blessed Christ and went to his doom scoffing and cursing and rejecting the Savior. The speaker then divided the world at large into two classes—the saved and the unsaved; the righteous and the wicked; the eternally happy and the eternally miserable. Evangelist Smith does not smooth matters over and pat sinners upon the back and call them good fellows. He is evidently a teacher who loves all men and all women and all children; loving them for eternity even better than for this life, and he preaches plain gospel truth, telling them that without conversion and experimental religion, through the atonement made by Jesus, they cannot have eternal life.

The mercy seat was crowded, and other seekers were kneeling at the front benches. Many professed conversion, while others professed sanctification.

Evangelist Smith has consented to remain for tonight's services, and he will preach at the usual hour. You have an urgent invitation to be present. The revival services will be continued indefinitely.

SOUTH SIDE. FAMILY TROUBLES ARE NOW IN COURT

Mrs. Roseberry Sued Her Husband
For Divorce and Then He
Sued

THE HEIRS OF AN ESTATE

For $20,000 Damages For Alienating the Affections of His Loving Wife.

PROMINENT W. VA. PEOPLE

The domestic troubles in the family of Nathaniel Roseberry, one of the best known and most prominent residents of New Cumberland, have resulted in two suits being entered in the Hancock county courts, one for divorce, the other asking damages in the sum of $20,000.

Some three weeks ago Mrs. Roseberry filed a petition for divorce, asking that her maiden name of Wylie be restored to her, together with the custody of their two minor children. It is said the family relations have been strained for a long time, and this action is the outcome of a great deal of mischief making on the part of relatives.

On January 17, Roseberry entered suit for $20,000 against the estate of Monroe Wylie, to which his wife is an heir, charging them with alienating his wife's affections, claiming that they influenced the wife to bring the divorce action, having opposed their marriage in the beginning and interfering in various ways since that time to bring about a separation.

Mrs. Roseberry is a daughter of the late Monroe Wylie, of Butler district, and the family is among the most prominent in the county.

Now that the porcelain works promised for the Southside are an assured fact, the people are anxious to see the work started, and it is probable they will not have long to wait, as the company will have things well under way when the spring opens up.

A Social.

On Thursday evening the Chester American Mechanics will hold a box social in their hall over the postoffice, and from the elaborate preparations under way, the affair promises to be one of the most enjoyable ever held by the organization.

Delayed a Moving.

Robert Marshall will move this week from Chester to the Johnson Messer farm, south of town. The gentleman had arranged his plans to go last week, but owing to the illness of his wife the trip was postponed.

Four children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Carolina avenue, near Fifth street, are afflicted with measles. None of the cases are of a serious nature.

EAST END.

DIPHTHERIA

Will Likely Prove Fatal in the Family of George Burlingame, East End.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burlingame, who has been afflicted with diphtheria for the past few days, is dangerously ill, and it is thought he cannot recover. The family had doctored the boy for mumps and did not call the physician who now has charge of the case for about four days after the disease had developed, so that there was really nothing to work upon, as the affliction had gained such headway that it was almost impossible to do anything for the relief of the patient.

There are five other children in the same family, but anti-toxine was administered, and it is thought they have not been exposed.

Slow Progress.

Work on the grading of the road around the hill on the Smith property is progressing slowly these days on account of the weather. A large force is at work and the grading has been completed to a point on the east side of the hill, and from now on the progress will be necessarily slow.

In Bad Condition.

The river road between East End and the city proper is almost impassable.

Teamsters and dairymen who are compelled to use the road have great difficulty in getting along, as it is very difficult along the thoroughfare even with an empty wagon.

Among the Sick.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snowden, of Ohio avenue, are ill with grip.

Cross Kerr is ill at the Todd House, suffering with grip. The gentleman came to East End several days ago for the purpose of doing some stone work and was taken ill shortly afterward.

Elsie Ecke Dead.

The funeral of Katherine, the six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ecke, took place yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday evening another child in the same family died of a complication of diseases. The little one will be buried tomorrow.

To Entertain.

A social will be held at the Second U. P. church under the auspices of the Junior Young People's society. The affair is being arranged by the little folks for the purpose of entertaining their parents, and refreshments will be served.

East End Notes.

Rev. J. R. Greene will go to Connoquenessing, Pa., this week, where he will assist Rev. Grimes in a series of meetings.

The services at the various East End churches yesterday were well attended and very interesting.

Mrs. Dr. Marshall and Mrs. James Elliott will entertain on Thursday afternoon and evening.

SMALL HAND BOY HAD DISAPPEARED

His Parents Were Alarmed About
Him and the Story Was Told That

HE HAD BEEN KIPNAPED

Boy Had Visited His Grandparents
Near West Point and Upon
His Return

HE FAILED TO GO HOME

About a week ago Alfred, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hand, who reside on Railroad street, near Ralston's crossing, went to the home of his grandparents, near West Point, for the purpose of paying them a visit.

On last Thursday the boy was brought to this city, but did not go home. Instead he went to East End, where he remained until yesterday. The parents were not aware that he had returned until Saturday, and were alarmed lest some harm had befallen him. They immediately informed the authorities, who instituted a search, with the result that the boy was located at the home of Alex Dobbs in the East End on Sunday.

The youngster had told the Dobbs family a hard luck story, and they took him in. He will be looked after pretty closely in the future, as he has a mania for taking trips, and on several previous occasions some difficulty has been experienced in locating him.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. N. M. Crowe Yesterday Morning
Delivered An Excellent
Sermon.

Rev. N. M. Crowe preached at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning from Matthew 5:15-16.

Jesus Christ came to earth not only to preach, but to teach, and the successful methods of teaching in use today were used by him. He was an original thinker and teacher, his thought and teaching exciting the purest imagination and best attention. The text is taken from the first part of the sermon on the Mount, and is particularly addressed to his disciples then and now. He gave a statement of the quality of the true Christian: ye are the salt of the earth, showing the disciple his personal relationship to the world. As salt would save or preserve a food product from decay, so go you, as a disciple, with great desire for the salvation of the world. Be a light to the world that is in darkness. Man, however, cannot give light of himself, but being lighted by the Holy Spirit, man can, and God expects him to shine. "The entrance of the word giveth light." It is the Holy Spirit who regenerates, who gives the new birth, the new life and light. We are to shine, not in a restricted way, hiding our light as it were under a bushel measure, but as a light set upon a hill; as a light from a lighthouse. We must "so" shine. God expects, yes God demands, of every believer, first, that he should so live as to personally glorify him, and second, to live in such a way that others may see our good works and glorify our Father in heaven.

FOR RENT—Three rooms for rent.
Inquire of J. B. McKinnon, 111 Washington street.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

Situate on the lower side of the extension of Bank street, a paved street which leaves off east side of Avondale street three squares up, lies our

ALPHA ADDITION.

We haven't been saying much about this plan of lots. Rather been letting it take care of itself. In 90 days spring will be here and people, like birds, will be thinking of house building, hence, we now call your especial attention to it. We don't claim that its the finest lying addition in the city, but we do claim that these lots are the best to be had for the money within the same distance from the business center. They are of easy access by reason of the paved street leading to them. Water and gas are there. They have good drainage. They are high enough to be above the fog and smoke, yet not so very far away that street cars are necessary to reach them, nor so high as to be exposed to the fury of the storm, wintry blast or summer heat. Further, while they last there is not a family in the city but what can own a home here within a very short time, for we make the following liberal offer: We will sell them at $5 cash down, and payments thereafter, averaging $1 per week, with low rate of interest and when you have paid one-half of the purchase price of the lot, we will have erected for you, according to your own plans, a house of three, four or five rooms, substantially built and complete in every respect, which you can then occupy and pay off the balance in payments from $8 to $12 per month, according to price of house. Your rent is costing you that now. Is it not possible for you to spare $1 a week until you pay a lot one-half off. The prices range from $150 to $275 the Lot.

Situate on the east side of Calcutta Road, about three minutes' walk beyond Riverview cemetery is our

BETA PLAN OF LOTS.

About a score of lots here for sale. They lie on the north and south side of a slightly elevated ridge, a street 50 feet wide running east and west occupying its summit and separating the lots in two tiers. A good view is obtained of the surrounding country, the scope of which takes in Thompson's Boulevard and Park, Riverview Cemetery, part of Gardendale and Maplewood. A beautiful place for a suburban home you will admit upon seeing them. Street cars will be passing this allotment by May. One is as good as another and they are all good, hence we sell at $125 for choice, payable $10 down and balance $5 per month.

Situate adjoining west side of Oakland, (East End) and between Globe street and C. & P. R. R., is the

GAMMA ADDITION.

We had 18 lots here, but a number have been sold. No prettier or nicer lying land in East End than this addition. Several new houses are in the course of erection and prices are stiffening in the locality. $300 is the full market value, but we still are selling at $250 each, payable $25 down and $10 monthly. No one can make any mistake in buying in East End, for events are trending for its development and improvement.

Situate on that plateau above the West End is

PLEASANT HEIGHTS.

This addition is well known to all. Residences here will be prized by many on account of the pure atmosphere and beautiful view obtained. We have quite a number of lots here. In contemplation of the completion of street car transit to this suburb and the opening up of the shorter route to the city by way of Sheridan avenue, May and Pleasant streets, people are buying these lots. We have a number of the choice ones to offer you at $100, $115 and $125, payable $10 down and $5 monthly.

This ad. we devote to these Four Additions—we do not want you to forget, however, that we have properties improved and unimproved, in all parts of the city and vicinity for sale.

Office Hours, 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Help Me Also.

Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us. It is not sufficient to banish hatred from our hearts. We must also efface every painful recollection. O my God, what happiness is it if Thou wilt forgive me as I forgive! I have been offended by words; I forget. By actions; I forget. By omissions; I forget. By unkind thoughts; I forget. I also have offended Thee in all these ways, O my God, and Thou hast forgiven and forgotten all. Help me also to forgive and forget.—Catholic Universe.

IN MEMORY OF QUEEN.

Services Held Throughout the British Kingdom.

TOUCHING SERMON BY TEMPLE.

The Archbishop of Canterbury Preached to a Big Audience—Roman Catholic and Foreign Churches Held Special Services—Arch-Deacon in London Preached.

London, Jan. 28.—Sunday throughout the kingdom all places of worship held services in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's cathedral there was an unusual scene. Before 9 o'clock in the morning an enormous crowd, wholly attired in black, streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands, unable to obtain admission, stood vainly waiting on the steps and around listening to the low organ strains and muffled peal. The service began at 10:30. The most Rev. Frederick Temple, primate and archbishop of Canterbury, preached a most touching sermon.

There was a similar scene at Westminster abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations. The large assemblage in the chapel royal at St. James' palace included Princess Fredericka of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of titled people, many members of the cabinet and other distinguished persons.

All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French embassy attended the French church, and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian embassy by command of Emperor Nicholas.

Everywhere particular attention was paid to the musical portion of the service. At Lincoln's Inn chapel Brahms' "Requiem Mass" was performed.

The venerable William MacDonald Sinclair, archdeacon of London, and canon of St. Paul's cathedral, preached a commemorative discourse at Canterbury cathedral.

Special sermons were preached in St. George's chapel at Windsor. Cathedrals and churches were draped with mourning at a number of places. Messages from the colonials and from all the principal cities abroad where British subjects reside reported memorial services. Sir Alfred Milner attended the service at the cathedral in Cape Town.

Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, accompanied by the countess, attended an afternoon service Sunday at St. Patrick's cathedral in Dublin.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Lord Roberts and Mr. William St. John Frederick, secretary of state for war, were present at morning prayers in Whippingham church about 11 o'clock today. About an hour later King Edward, Queen Alexandra and all the royal personages now at Osborne, arrived at the church for the memorial service. This was a simple function, the hymns being sung by an unsupervised choir of school children. Sir Walter Parratt, private organist to the late queen and organist to St. George's chapel royal, Windsor, played several funeral excerpts.

The bishop of Winchester, who was the preacher for the occasion, delivered an eloquent panegyric upon Victoria, and declared that Emperor William's action in coming to the deathbed had touched the hearts of the British people and cemented the unity and friendship of the two kindred nations.

At the conclusion of the service all stood during a performance of the "Dead March."

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Sunday morning Emperor William received from the hand of the Duke of Connaught his sword on his appointment as field marshal of the British army, in the presence of the households of King Edward and the dead queen, as well as a number of British and German naval officers. His majesty has expressed great delight at the appointment. He will entertain King Edward and the members of the royal family at tea on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern.

Sunday he celebrated his birthday at Osborne and received congratulations from the members of the German embassy in London.

HONOR QUEEN'S MEMORY.

Services Held in Some of the Churches in New York, Washington and Chicago.

New York, Jan. 28.—Many of the sermons delivered at the various churches in the city Sunday were in memory of the late queen and eulogistic of her character. Several churches held regular memorial exercises. The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix devoted the greater part of his sermon to the late queen, and the Rev. Dr. George B. Vandewater, of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, delivered eulogy as a prelude to his morning service. Rev. Charles Eaton, of the Church of the Divine Paternity; Rev. Dr. A. E. Kittredge, of the Madison Avenue Reformed; Rev. Dr. S. P. Cadman, of the Central Metropolitan Temple; Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, of the Fifth Avenue Collegiate; Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie, of the Scotch Presbyterian, and Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, of Calvary Baptist, all devoted their entire sermons to eulogies of the queen.

Dr. MacArthur, in opening his sermon, severely criticised Mayor Van Wyck for refusing to half-mast the flag on the city hall, saying: "New York has been humiliated by the refusal of its mayor to make official recognition of the respect felt by all true citizens and patriotic Americans for the queen."

Washington, Jan. 28.—Queen Victoria's life, reign and death formed the theme in many Washington pulpits Sunday, while in most of the local churches of all denominations fitting reference was made to the demise of the ruler of the British empire. At Epiphany church an elaborate service was celebrated about 11 o'clock in memoriam. Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, the rector, delivered a sermon on the life and death of the queen. A special musical program was arranged for the service.

Lord Pauncefort, the British ambassador, attended the service, accompanied by Lady Pauncefort and the Misses Pauncefort; Mr. Gerard A. Lowther, the first secretary; Mr. H. C. Norman, third secretary, and Mr. Burton-Alexander, honorary attaché of the embassy. Members of the Sons of St. George were conspicuous among the congregation. The service was one of marked solemnity.

At the First Baptist church Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage spoke of the queen's death.

Memorial sermons were preached by Rev. Mackay-Smith at St. John's Protestant Episcopal church and by Rev. Dr. Bristol at the Metropolitan M. E. church.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Memorial services in honor of Queen Victoria were held in 50 different churches in this city Sunday. There was no concert of movement and no pre-arranged program, each service being conducted independently. The life and character of the late queen were highly extolled by all the ministers, the belief being expressed that the sorrow felt, particularly by all English-speaking races, at her death will prove a bond of union hereafter between America and England. A formal memorial service will be held next Sunday in the Auditorium, and it is already certain that many thousands of people will be unable to gain admission, so great has been the demand for tickets.

MEMORIAL TO QUEEN.

A large sum was realized, which will be held by the treasurer of Trinity church until the character and the form of the memorial is decided upon.

EXPRESSED GREAT GRIEF.

Colonel Larkin, of the Royal Household, First Heard of Queen's Death, Off Sandy Hook.

New York, Jan. 28.—Colonel Cuthbert Larkin, of the royal household, gentleman of the privy chamber, and for about 20 years equerry to the Duke of Connaught, arrived on the American line steamer St. Louis Sunday and expressed great grief at learning of the recent death of Queen Victoria.

"It is an irreparable loss to the nation," said Colonel Larkin. "We first heard the sad news from the pilot at Sandy Hook last night and this morning I received a cablegram announcing her majesty's death."

Colonel Larkin will remain in the United States for a fortnight, visiting friends whose acquaintance he made 10 years ago.

Another Death From Plague.

Hull, England, Jan. 28.—Another death from the plague occurred among the members of the crew of the British steamer Friary, which left Alexandria Dec. 22, via Algiers, Dec. 31, for this port.

MISSIONARIES' WORK.

Wu Endorses Praise of Li Hung Chang.

REPLIES TO A CRITICISM BY HOYT.

The Philadelphia Clergyman in a Recent Sermon, Referred to the Utterances of the Great Statesman and Asked What Reply the Chinese Minister Could Make.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Wu Ting Fang, China's minister plenipotentiary to the United States, delivered a lecture on "Confucius and Mencius" before the Society of Ethical Culture at Horticultural hall. There was a large crowd present. In a talk at the close of his lecture he referred to criticisms raised by Minister Wu's recent utterances in New York city on the subject of Christianity.

At one point Minister Wu quoted an extract from the sermon of the Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of this city, on Sunday, Dec. 16, in which the latter spoke of Li Hung Chang's high tribute to the work of the Christian missionaries in China, and asked what reply the Chinese minister could make. He said in part:

"Dr. Hoyt has done me, though doubtless unwittingly, a gross injustice. Since he wants a reply I have no hesitation in giving him one. I endorse every word that Earl Li has said on the subject of foreign missionaries as cited by the doctor. To prove that I am sincere in what I say I beg to refer the doctor to the address I delivered in December last before the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia on the "Causes of the Unpopularity of Foreigners in China." I suppose the doctor had not read that address, or if he had read it he has forgotten it. In any case, I would not believe that an eminent divine could be capable of purposely misrepresenting us."

"Again, Dr. Hoyt and some other clergymen, from their addresses, seem to think that I charged all missionaries with crying out for vengeance. Let me read the exact words I used. 'Love your enemy. Is Christ's command, but at this moment some Christian missionaries are crying out for vengeance and bloodshed.' Note that I used the word 'some'."

Pekin, Jan. 28.—There has been great distress in the province of Shan Si, owing to the famine, and thousands have died. The court has ordered rice relief to be issued in large quantities. A report reached the foreign envoys that native Christians, suffering from the famine, were to be discriminated against and to be punished if they even begged for food. Mr. Conger, Sir Ernest M. Satow and M. Pichon, the United States, British and French ministers, protested to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang against such discrimination, and the court issued an edict, dated Saturday, ordering all relief officials and Chinese soldiers to treat Christians exactly the same as others throughout the empire under penalty of decapitation.

The foreign envoys considered this a most important decree if it is carried out.

Pekin, Jan. 28.—A committee of missionaries waited upon the foreign envoys to lay before them the gist of resolutions adopted at a recent meeting of missionaries.

The resolutions will be considered at the next meeting of the ministers, when they will be brought forward and explained by Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British minister.

SOME POINTS OF THE SCALE.

What Miners Are Likely to Demand—Don't Deny "Mother" Jones' Assertion.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—In secret session Saturday the United Mine Workers of America discussed a report of the scale committee, which makes the following recommendations to the delegates:

1.—That we demand an advance of 10 cents per ton on a straight run of a mine basis.

2.—That we demand an advance of 20 per cent on all inside day labor.

3.—That drivers work but eight hours, from barn to barn.

4.—That all narrow work be paid for at entry prices.

5.—That we demand a flat differential of 7 cents between the pick and machine mining.

6.—That 1 cent be paid for smithing in pick mines and nothing in machine mines.

7.—That Pittsburg prices and conditions be demanded in the Irwin, Pa., field.

8.—That the check-off be demanded for all checkweighmen, levies, dues and assessments.

9.—That all slate over 12 inches be paid for at 5 cents per running yard.

10.—That the mule be employed on all work where the cars cannot be easily pushed to the face of the coal by hand.

This list conforms pretty closely to the scale suggested by the Pittsburg and Ohio conventions within the past month.

President Patrick Dolan, of the Pittsburg district, Friday took some pretty strong exceptions to remarks made by "Mother" Mary Jones, regarding the strike of 1897 in the Pittsburg district. Mother Jones told a sympathetic story of how Eugene V. Debs was alleged to have toured the Pittsburg district unpaid and almost penniless in behalf of the striking miners.

Dolan declared that he had himself paid Debs for his work out of money donated to the then starving miners of the Pittsburg district. "Besides," said Dolan, "we don't want any socialist features injected into this convention."

Very MODEST, VERDI'S WISH

Great Composer's Desire For a Simple Funeral, Expressed In His Will.

Milan, Jan. 28.—Although preceded by a struggle for life that lasted about two days, the death of Verdi, the composer, was peaceful. He did not know how I thank Him that the way. Though unto me unknown, He knows! And through the clouds the way. Of light is o'er me thrown. I simply hold His guiding hand, And, although dark the night, I trust—nor care to understand—For faith surpasses sight.

Oh, could I know each ill that waits Upon my onward road, Ed bow beneath the heavy weight Of sorrow's weary load!

His grace suffices every need,

And nothing can affright

The soul that on his manna feeds

And walks by faith, not sight.

God's way is always the best way;

His will I now make mine;

His peace doth all my heart o'er day

With harmony divine.

I simply trust because I know

God's plans are always right,

And willingly, wher'er I go,

He walks by faith, not sight.

BIG EXPORT RECORD.

Hitchcock Refers to It in a Report.

GREW OVER 12-FOLD IN CENTURY.

Domestic Exports in 1900 Over 40 Times as Large as in 1800—Agricultural Products Formed About 62 Per Cent of the Exports Last Year.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department, has just issued his annual review of the trade of the United States in agricultural products. His report said in part:

In 1800, a century ago, the total value of the merchandise imported and exported in our trade with foreign countries was considerably less than a quarter of a billion dollars. The value of the goods exchanged during the past fiscal year reached nearly two and a quarter billions, far exceeding all previous records. Since the opening of the century our commerce with the rest of the world has increased more than twelvefold.

Our domestic exports during 1900, with a recorded value of $1,370,763,571, were over forty times as large as in 1800. The total imports for 1900, on the other hand, amounting in value to $849,941,184, were less than ten times as large as in 1800.

Compared with the value of our imports for 1900, that of our domestic exports showed an excess of $520,822,387. Of the merchandise imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year 1900, about 49 per cent consisted of agricultural products. These products had an aggregate value of $420,136,381, exceeding by almost $65,000,000 the record of the year before.

Products of United States agriculture were marketed abroad in the fiscal year 1900 to the value of $844,616,530, forming about 62 per cent of the total domestic exports. With the single exception of 1898 the past year witnessed the largest annual export trade in farm produce on record. The value attained came within $15,000,000 of the phenomenal figures for 1898, and surpassed those for 1899 by more than $50,000,000. A considerable portion of the increase over 1899 was accounted for by the higher price of cotton.

In detail these principal items of our imports make the following showing, the figures given being for 1900, and the comparison of gain or loss being with the fiscal year 1899:

Sugar. 4,013,086,530 pounds, gain, 37,835,961 pounds, and total gain in value of these imports, $5,286,854; hides and skins, 345,935,778 pounds, gain, 78,845,028 pounds, value of gain, $15,947,655; coffee, 787,991,911 pounds, loss, 43,835,152, value loss, $2,807,527; silk, 13,073,718 pounds, gain, 1,823,335 pounds, value gain, $12,850,133; vegetable fibers, chiefly sisal grass, cotton and manila hemp, $34,334,750, gain, $9,021,511; wool, 155,928,455 pounds, gain, 79,192,246 pounds (or over 100 per cent), value gain, $11,938,039; fruits and nuts, $19,263,592, gain, $949,386; tobacco, 19,619,627 pounds, gain, 5,583,798 pounds, value gain, $3,396,970; tea, 84,845,107 pounds, gain, 10,755,208, value gain, $883,029; wines, $7,421,495, gain, $831,280; vegetable oils, $6,320,711, gain, $1,020,047; cocoa, 42,759,240 pounds, gain, 6,320,657 pounds, value gain, $610,728. The value changes were in part caused by an average rise in value during the year of one-tenth of a cent a pound in sugar, 1 cent a pound in hides and skins, one-tenth of a cent a pound in coffee, 58 cents a pound in silk, $25.05 a ton in sisal grass, 1.8 cents a pound in cotton, $51.50 a ton in Manila hemp, 2.2 cents a pound in wool, and a loss of 2.7 cents a pound in tobacco, seven-tenths of a cent a pound in tea and seven-tenths of a cent a pound in cocoa.

Our principal agricultural exports in 1900, as in previous years, were breadstuffs, cotton and meat products, these, with live animals, tobacco, oil cake, vegetable oils, fruits and nuts, dairy products and seeds, comprising over 95 per cent of our total exports of farm products during 1900.

The exports for 1898, amounting in value to $333,897,119, were by far the largest on record. In 1899 the export trade amounted to $273,969,699, this value being in excess of any previously reported, except that just mentioned for 1898 and a record of $209,363,117 attained in 1892. The shipments during 1900 were valued at $262,744,078, or $11,255,621 less than the figures returned for 1898.

The decline in the export value of breadstuffs recorded for 1900 was traceable chiefly to a falling off in the shipments of wheat. Accompany-ng the decline in wheat shipments there was a further market increase in the exports of corn, and for the first time in the history of the trade the total export value of corn exceeded that of wheat.

THE POPE ON SOCIALISM.

He Defines Christian Democracy, Which Is Different From Socialism, in His Encyclical.

Rome, Jan. 28.—The pope's encyclical on socialism was issued. It is dated Jan. 18. The pope commenced with recalling his two previous encyclicals on social questions, "Quod Apostole Numeris" and "Rerum Novarum," and said the sequel of these encyclicals was that the Catholics devoted all their activity to social works, in order to help the working classes.

The pontiff here reviewed all that had been done in this direction, the foundation of labor bureaus, funds established for the benefit of the rural classes and workingmen's associations of all kinds. He considers the appellation "Christian socialism" incorrect, and said Catholics who occupy themselves with social questions were sometimes also called "Christian democrats." But even this qualification was attacked by some people as being ill-sounding. Divergencies having arisen therefrom, the pope ardently desired to eliminate them.

Careful distinction must be drawn between socialism and Christian democracy. The first concerns itself solely with material possessions, always seeking to establish perfect equality and a common holding of goods. Christian democracy, on the contrary, respects the principles of Divine law, and while seeking material amelioration has in view the spiritual welfare of the people.

Christian democracy, moreover, must not be confounded with political democracy, for the first can and ought to subsist as does the church itself, under the most varied political regimes. Christian democracy also ought to respect the laws of legitimate civil authority. The appellation "Christian democracy," therefore, contains nothing which might offend anyone.

These divergencies having now been dispelled, Catholics should continue to devote their cares to social questions and the amelioration of the lot of the working classes. The pope encouraged the zeal and action of those Catholics who consecrate themselves to this eminently useful work.

The encyclical eulogized the giving of alms, which the socialists wrongly regard as insulting to the poor. Alms, on the contrary, serve to tighten the ties of social charity. It matters little whether this action of Catholics in favor of the working classes is called the social action of Catholics or Christian democracy.

The essential point is that Catholics should act together to preserve the community of effort and sentiment. Idle, useless questions ought, therefore, never to be brought up in the press or public assemblies. Catholics must act so as to not engage in disputes.

The pontiff concluded with exhorting Catholics to inspire themselves with these principles and to inculcate them. They must urge the people and workmen to shun everything invested with a seditious or revolutionary character, respect the right of others, be respectful to their masters and observe sobriety and religious practices. Thus will social peace again become flourishing throughout the world.

Monsignor Ingeli, private secretary to the pope, said no sovereign's death caused his holiness such profound emotion as that of Queen Victoria. He always had the most affectionate regard for her majesty and she for him. Letters were exchanged between them as recently as last December. The pope regards her death as an almost irreparable loss to Christianity, she having contributed more than any other monarch to the triumph of Christian sentiments and moral virtues. The pope is said to be already engaged on a memorial poem. He is convinced that the death of Queen Victoria is a solemn notice for him to prepare for his own end.

Peros's new oratorio, "The Annunciation," was sung last week at the Church of the Apostles. It is a very fine work and destined to live. It is the first of a projected series of oratories illustrating the entire life of Christ. Countess Pecc, a niece of the pope, took the role of the virgin, and achieved a distinct success.

Still Anxious.
"Have you fastened the windows, dear?" she asked, as they were about to retire for the night.

"No. What's the use? I gave you the last dollar I had to buy that new hat, and we needn't fear burglars."

"But they might sit down on the hat, you know."—Washington Post.

CARRIED DOWN FIRE ESCAPE

Congressman Dovener and Wife and Others Taken From a Hotel, in Washington, During a Fire.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Fire broke out in a small room on the first floor of the old portion of the building occupied by Willard's hotel, and which adjoins the new structure now in course of construction. The flames were confined to this room, and the halls immediately adjoining, and the property loss will not exceed $5,000. Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, wife, and son; Representative Dovener, of West Virginia, and wife and Representative Robertson, of Louisiana, and wife were brought down the fire escapes. Mr. Dovener had been ill with the grip for several weeks and had not been outside the hotel for about nine days. He was hatless and wore scant apparel when rescued. Mr. Edward E. Miller, of East St. Louis, the private secretary to Congressman Rodenberg, of Illinois, who occupied a room on one of the top floors, was aroused by the smoke and went from room to room until almost stifled with smoke, knocking at the doors to arouse the guests. He assisted in bringing the wives of the congressmen from their rooms to the street. Others who were rescued included Mr. Edgar J. Gibson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who occupied a room on the top story; his brother, Mr. William H. Gibson, president of the Lind Warehouse company, of New York, and his wife, and Mr. S. C. Wells, editor of the Philadelphia Press. Mrs. Underwood, widow of Thomas Underwood, of Chicago, was found half asphyxiated on the fourth floor. She was removed to the Ebbitt house and quickly rallied.

SAID BOERS RETIRED.

Kitchener Confirmed Capture of a British Train—Some of the Engagements He Reported.

London, Jan. 28.—The war office has received from the commander-in-chief in South Africa a dispatch dated Pretoria, Jan. 26, reporting numerous engagements, the following being the most important:

"Cunningham was engaged at Middefontein and Koppfontein yesterday with Delarey's force. Babington, while moving north from Ventersdorp, threatened the enemy's flank, whereupon the Boers retired west. Cunningham's casualties were 2 officers wounded, 4 men killed and 37 wounded.

"In the engagement at Lichtenburg, Jan. 17, some yeomanry were captured. They have since been released, with the exception of a major and three men. No details are yet at hand.

"Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement of five hours while on the march from Wonderfontein to Carolina, where the Boers had lately been concentrating. The enemy were in considerable strength and held the river, but were driven out. Our losses were 1 officer killed and 2 officers and 13 men wounded."

General Kitchener confirmed the report that a British train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid and captured at Sliplkijp, near Fourteen Streams, last Friday, but said the Boers retired on the arrival of the armored train sent in pursuit.

IS TOWNE A SENATOR?

Fine Point Raised by Secretary Bennett. Expected to Make a Speech Today.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Post today was expected to say that a fine point had been raised over the right of Mr. Towne to continue to hold his seat in the senate, now that Mr. Clapp has been given a certificate of election by the governor of Minnesota. It said that Mr. Bennett, the secretary of the senate, held that Mr. Towne ceased to draw his salary on Wednesday, Jan. 23, when a certificate of election was given to Mr. Clapp by the governor. Mr. Towne on Friday introduced a resolution favorable to the independence of the Philippines and was recognized by the chair for that purpose. He gave notice that he would address the senate on it today, and as a result of telegraphic correspondence, Mr. Clapp agreed not to present his credentials and be sworn in until after the delivery of the speech, but Secretary Bennett has raised a question as to whether Mr. Clapp is not now senator.
